CENTRAL EUROPE CRISIS EASES AFTER CLASHES

No Relief Sums For Sit-downers Says Ministry

With 700 Occupying Buildings in Vancouver, Mayor Passes Along Word

Men Told They Must Go East

VANCOUVER (CP)—A blunt assertion that the British Columbia government had "made up its mind" to refuse relief to single unemployed men from eastern Canada provinces was made before the Vancouver city council's social services committee today by Mayor George C. Miller.

The committee meeting, called to seek a solution to the problem presented by a sitdown demonstration by 700 unemployed in two public buildings, heard Mayor Miller explain the provincial government's offer to send the men back to their home provinces.

The committee ended its meeting without deciding on any definite action for immediate relief assistance for the men. The council meeting was described by R. W. Campbell, publicity representative of the Relief Project Workers' Union as a "complete sell-out."

The council did, however, agree to send a special committee, consisting of the mayor and representatives from several civic organizations, to interview Humphrey Mitchell, representative of the federal Labor Department, who Mayor Miller said was in the city.

GOVERNMENT RULING

The chief magistrate said he had been authorized today by Hon. George S. Pearson, British Columbia Labor Minister, to say the Labor Department had made up its mind that no assistance would be granted to men from outside British Columbia.

Mr. Pearson was quoted by the mayor as saying free transportation was available to the men and that once they returned to their homes they would be eligible for the same assistance that British Columbia's government extended to its own unemployed.

The statement was a virtual repetition of a previous expression by the Labor Minister which was answered by the 1,000 unemployed men with occupation of the Hotel Georgia, the central post office and the Vancouver Art Gallery last Friday.

Demanding "work—not train rides," 700 of the men continued their sitdown demonstration in the post office and Art Gallery today. More than 200 others had evacuated Vancouver's second largest hotel Saturday night after they had received $500 from the city to tide them over the week-end.

Holiday Spirit Over Victoria

Celebration Committee Seeks Flags and Bunting to Add to Color Tomorrow

Victoria's May 24 celebration committee today called on citizens generally to enter into the festive spirit and decorate homes and cars with flags and bunting to greet the hundreds of visitors expected in town tomorrow for the day's attractive program.

A special excursion boat will bring throngs from Vancouver, in addition to the passengers on the regular ships coming to the city from Vancouver, Seattle, Port Angeles, Port Townsend and other points on the Washington coast.

FIREWORKS

In order to avoid danger of fire from the big rockets and salvos included in the firework display scheduled for Beacon Hill Park tomorrow night, the committee has changed the location from which they will be set off from the pavilion to the waterfront on Horse Shoe Bay. Daylight bombs will be touched off at 8, half an hour before the torchlight parade and illuminated car procession starts to wend its way through the park from Beacon Hill School. At 9.30 the night fireworks will commence.

During the course of the procession and the fireworks, Beacon Hill Park, south of Goodacre Lake, will be closed to automobile traffic. The Dallas Road will be blocked off at both ends leading into the park, as will side roads, in order to avoid traffic congestion during the events.

Those participating in the parade are requested to report at the corner of St. Andrew's Gardens and Simcoe Street at 7.55.

Dodge Heir To Marry Canadian

DETROIT (AP)—A rumored story book romance between Daniel George Dodge, 20-year-old son of the late John F. Dodge, automobile manufacturer, and Loreen MacDonald, 18-year-old telephone operator at Gore Bay, Ont., was confirmed today.

Mrs. Alfred G. Wilson, Dodge's mother, announced the impending marriage. Dodge is the beneficiary of a trust fund which, by a recent accounting, amounted to $9,331,606.

GUNNER R. A. CHILDERS

Unconscious Five Hours In Car

Auto Smashes Rail as Death Brushes Driver

"I tried to turn the wheels. They wouldn't turn. Then I felt a thump. Next thing I remember was waking up five hours later with the car just two feet away from a ledge that dropped sheer into Saanich Inlet."

In bed at Work Point Barracks this morning, Gunner R. A. Childers of the permanent force, thus described his remarkable escape from death early Sunday morning when his car plunged through the guard rail on the Malahat Drive just above Stacey's Road, traveled 200 feet and jammed against some small trees.

"That's really all I can remember," he said. "You see I was out cold until 6.30 in the morning.

With only a lacerated left wrist and bruises in other parts of his body, Gunner Childers' first reaction was:

"Thank goodness the coupe had a steel body. If it had been the old wooden type I would not be here now."

By himself in the car, Gunner Childers was returning from Malahat Lookout when the accident occurred. He had intended to go through to Duncan, but changed his mind.

"I wish I had gone ahead to Duncan," he said, smiling.

The car knocked over two 8 x 8 posts and a 16-foot piece of 4 x 10 guard rail, according to Constable E. F. McKay, who examined the scene yesterday.

If it had dropped directly over the bank at this point Childers would have fallen 500 feet straight down into the sea. Instead it sped through the air for about 75 feet along the top of the bank, then touched, turned end over end, landed on its hood, took another somersault and finished on four wheels about 200 feet away and 60 feet below the guard rail.

The driver had his left elbow resting on the window ledge. The arm was torn when the car plunged.

"I supposed I must have hit my head on the steering wheel," Childers explained. It was about 1.30 in the morning when the car plunged. He regained consciousness about 6.30 and then, bruised and bleeding, struggled up the bank to the road where a passing motorist picked him up.

"I haven't got the name of the people who helped me, but they put a tourniquet around my wrist and brought me to the hospital here," he said.

The police made arrangements to recover the car, still wedged against the trees. Beyond a badly dented top and fenders it did not appear seriously damaged.

Beaux-Arts Society Crowned Champs Of National Drama

"Hands Across the Sea" Triumphs at Winnipeg; First Victory For West

WINNIPEG (CP) — Victoria Beaux Arts Society hold the Bessborough Trophy, highest honor in Canada's nonprofessional theatre, for the best production presented during the record-breaking Dominion Drama Festival here.

Adjudicator Barrett H. Clark's selection of their well-staged and acted production of Noel Coward's play, "Hands Across the Sea," sent the award west of Winnipeg for the first time in festival history. The New York critic announced his decision here Saturday night.

The Beaux Arts, who played opening night before an audience which included Canada's Governor-General, Lord Tweedsmuir, won praise from Clark for "doing as clever a job as they did in portraying roles foreign to themselves."

Clark said Mrs. E. W. Hetherington as Lady Maureen Gilpin, was one of the four best woman actors in the festival. H. F. Hewitt and Leila Harris as Mr. and Mrs. Wadhurst, Colonials, who arrive in the smart Mayfair Apartment and start a series of amusing mistakes, were rated among the outstanding performers, as were Dennis Harris and Ann Piers.

Others in the Noel Coward play, directed by Wilbur Sparrow, were Emila McConnan, Leslie Hardie, Dennis Sweeting and Waldo Skillings. It was the first nonprofessional production of the ultra-smart modern comedy by the English writer and actor given here.

MANY CHINESE SURRENDERING

Correspondent From Plane Sees Groups Near Suchow Fight For Lives

By ELMER PETERSON
Associated Press Foreign Staff

With the Japanese Army in Central China (AP)—The Japanese field command said Monday 10,000 Chinese soldiers have surrendered since the fall of Suchow.

Flying over the Suchow area in a Japanese plane, this correspondent saw a ghastly spectacle of desperate, shattered Chinese fighting for their lives in the Suchow trap. Passing over Suchow at 500 feet, it could be plainly seen that the Japanese were in full possession of that city, junction of the Lunghai and Tientsin-Pukow railways. The Rising Sun flag floated over the city and it swarmed with Japanese troops, tanks and trucks.

PURSUE FUGITIVES

In the adjacent fighting zone, where the Japanese say more than 200,000 Chinese are caught, tanks, motorized units and infantry could be seen pursuing groups of fugitives across the fields, harassing them with machine-gun and rifle fire.

The terrain was littered with ruined villages, wrecked bridges and devastated farm houses.

In Shanghai a Japanese army spokesman said a gap approximately 30 miles long still existed along the Tientsin-Pukow railway through which several Chinese divisions already had fled westward. The Japanese previously had claimed the Suchow area was completely encircled and that the Chinese trapped there were faced with either surrender or annihilation.

Dispatches reaching Shanghai told of the Japanese pressing their campaign westward along the Lunghai into Honan province while forces in the Suchow area were mopping up.

The Chinese still refused to concede defeat in the eastern Lunghai region, despite the fall of Suchow. Chinese spokesmen asserted Neihwang had been recaptured and 200 Japanese killed, as well as 28 armored cars and trucks seized.

NINE ACCIDENTAL DEATHS

TORONTO (CP)—A list of nine dead was counted in Ontario week-end accidents. Five persons were drowned, two died in traffic mishaps, another was burned to death in a northwestern Ontario forest fire and a man suffered fatal injuries during a fight.

No Times Tomorrow

Victoria Day will be a holiday for the Times. The next regular edition will be placed in the readers' hands Wednesday afternoon.

Negotiations For Mackenzie Press

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (CP)—The press on which William Lyon Mackenzie printed the Colonial Advocate at Queenston in 1824 may be restored to the replica of its original shop which has been built by the Niagara Parks Commission. The press is valued at $5,000 by the present owner and the commission has offered $50 for it. If they can reach a compromise the old press will be placed in the building when it is officially opened next month.

Celebration Events---Victoria Day

Fair weather prospects promised to add further to the attractiveness of Victoria's May 24 celebration program tomorrow as members of the committees staging various festivities made final preparations for their events today.

A full day's program has been arranged as follows:

10 a.m.—Start of quoit championships, Pandora Avenue and Blanshard Street.

10.30—School pageant, Athletic Park.

10.30—Start of checker tournament, Beacon Hill.

1 p.m.—Hospitals and Solarium Sports, Willows.

2.30—Baseball, Victoria vs. Vancouver Lowneys; Athletic Park.

6—Baseball, Victoria vs. Vancouver Lowneys, Athletic Park.

8.30—Torchlight procession and illuminated car parade, Beacon Hill, starting from Beacon Hill School.

9.30—Fireworks, Beacon Hill Park, near Kiwanis Shelter.

The festivities at Beacon Hill will be brought to a close with a community sing and concert by the Canadian Legion Band.

Alaska Highway Talks Reopened

Washington Officials Await Arrival of Premier Pattullo From B.C.

By EDWARD E. BOMAR
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON—International negotiations promise to speed the day when it will be possible to motor 14,000 miles or more from Alaska, through British Columbia and the United States to Buenos Aires.

The negotiations involve the possibility of a $15,000,000 United States loan to British Columbia, or some other means of financing a 2,200-mile all-weather road between Seattle and Fairbanks.

Reports received in Washington said the British Columbia Premier, Hon. T. D. Pattullo, left Vancouver yesterday by airplane for Washington, presumably to discuss further the projected highway.

Half of this northern projection of a Pan-American highway system has been completed. Already

German Troops Moved Back From Border During Czech-Sudeten Talks

Praha Reports Hopes for Averting Serious Conflict in That Part of Europe Are Much Brighter; Premier Hodza Enters Direct Discussion With Konrad Henlein, Nazi Leader in Czechoslovakia; Today's Events Follow Sunday's Quiet Municipal Elections

PRAHA (AP)—Konrad Henlein, leader of Czechoslovakia's autonomy-seeking Germanic minority, and Premier Milan Hodza met tonight in a preliminary effort to settle their dispute.

Henlein returned to the capital by airplane late today and it was understood he had come from Vienna, where presumably he had seen German leaders.

TROOPS MOVE BACK

He arrived soon after reports were received that German troops were withdrawing from the Czechoslovak border. Hopes for averting a serious central European conflict were considered appreciably brighter.

His talk with the Czechoslovak premier was considered a preliminary to real peace negotiations between the Praha government and the 3,500,000 Sudeten Germans, for whom Henlein considers himself spokesman.

Earlier Associated Press dispatches told how, following the passing of a peaceful election day, with the question still to be settled, the question how and by whom the German minority population shall be governed, Czechoslovakia this morning kept 500,000 of her soldiers along the 1,300-mile frontier facing Germany.

The Sudeten, Nazi, German Party increased its strength in the German communities where voting was held Sunday, but only municipal governing bodies were affected, so it appeared there there could be no direct national effort therefrom.

Among the 1,500 communities which voted yesterday, 48 were predominatly German and four of these in western Czechoslovakia were classed as cities.

SWING IS SEEN

In the cities alone, the Sudeten Germany increased their municipal council seats from 69 to 105, in the same cities, Communists dropped from 14 to five. The United German Democratic Party, non-Nazi, dropped from 28 to 18.

In Czech National Socialist Party, slightly to the left of centre and comparable to the French Radical Socialist Party, made gain of 15 to 20 per cent.

In Praha, that party polled 142,000 votes, compared with 107,000 in 1931, and emerged the strongest party. Communists here were next with 89,000 votes.

On the whole it appeared from not fully complete returns that the Sudetens gained in Germanic towns, whereas the predominantly Czech communities swung toward the moderate left.

While all were fully aware of the dangers of the situation provoked by the fatal shooting of two Sudeten Germans along the border on Friday, one Czechoslovak government spokesman said: "This emergency will pass off peacefully."

CHAMBERLAIN SPEAKS

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain told the House of Commons today that Czechoslovakia's premier and the leader of her Germanic minority would meet tonight or tomorrow in an effort to settle their dispute.

Smiling and affable, the Prime Minister acknowledged cheers which greeted his announcement that a conference had been arranged between Premier Milan Hodza and Konrad Henlein, leader of the Sudeten Germans, over whom Germany has declared herself protector.

CAREFULLY WORDED

Mr. Chamberlain, markedly recovered from his gout attack, gave the House a brief but carefully worded resume of the situation.

He said Great Britain, France, Germany and Czechoslovakia, as well as Henlein, had agreed to expedite peaceful negotiations

Rebel Leader's Nephew Slain

H. Cedillo Killed By Mexican Government Troops in Clash

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The Defence Ministry announced today that Hipolito Cedillo, nephew of the rebel leader, General Saturnino, had been killed with 11 followers in a clash with government troops Sunday near Lazunita, in southeastern San Luis Potosi state.

The ministry said Hipolito Cedillo was heading a rebel band of 150 men and his group clashed with a column of the government's 35th cavalry regiment.

AUTO RACER IS IMPROVED

Buddy Green, Local Driver, Holding Own After Smash-up at Langford Track

Condition of Buddy Green, Victoria automobile racing driver, who was seriously injured in a crack-up at the Langford speedway on Saturday evening was reported improved at St. Joseph's Hospital this afternoon. Green was taking part in the second meet of the season staged on the local speedway.

Dr. A. C. Sinclair, attending physician, stated today Green was suffering from a badly-fractured left shoulder, possible fracture of the spine, concussion and was badly bruised all over his body. He stated the young athlete was holding up well.

Green was injured during the running of the 20-lap main event. In rounding the northwest turn into the home stretch on the third lap Buddy appeared to experience trouble with his steering and his car went into a bad skid. Striking the bales of hay, which act as guards in front of the grandstand, the car rolled over twice, ending up on its wheels facing the stands. Attendants rushed to the smoking machine

Apology From Czechs To Reich

Praha Speedily Clears Up Border Incident; Berlin Believes Clash Averted

BERLIN (AP) — The official Czechoslovakia press bureau today reported Germany had received a prompt apology for an attempt by Czechoslovak soldiers to blow up a wooden bridge linking the two countries across the river Thaya at Berhartstahl.

Foreign Minister Kamil Krofta delivered the apology yesterday in Praha to German Minister Ernst Eisenlohr even before the latter was aware of the incident, the press bureau said.

The Czechoslovak military command condemned the attempt as "unauthorized."

The German news agency reported another border incident in which a Czechoslovak military plane with two occupants and armed with a machine gun flew over German territory near Baerenstein in Saxony.

The agency said that after flying low over Baerenstein, the plane recrossed the frontier but crashed shortly afterward and burst into flames. The report did not mention whether the plane was fired on while flying over German territory.

Severe Temblor Shakes Japan And Philippines

Houses Damaged on Main Island of Nippon, But No Casualties Reported

TOKIO (AP) — A severe 10-minute earthquake shook northeastern Honshu, main island of Japan, starting at 4.19 p.m. Monday (11.19 Sunday night, P.S.T.), with considerable property damage. No casualties were reported but walls were cracked, some roofs fell and windows were broken.

PHILIPPINE REPORT

MANILA (AP)—A sharp earthquake shook a major portion of Luzon Island at 4.30 p.m. today. Seismologists said the quake probably centred somewhere north of the Philippine Islands. No damage or casualties were reported.

RECORDED AT OTTAWA

OTTAWA (CP)—The Dominion observatory here reported a sharp earthquake registered on the seismographs for three hours today bginning at 2.31 a.m. E.S.T. Distance to the epicentre was 5,800 miles and no direction was indicated.

The earthquake was not registered in Victoria because the supply of film for the seismograph at the meteorological observatory has run out, and a new stock has not yet arrived from Ottawa.

DAY OF TERROR IN JAMAICA

Thousands of Strikers March in Kingston

KINGSTON, Jamaica (CP)—Thousands of marching strikers terrorized Kingston today, parading the streets and stopping every branch of business and industry.

Practically all commercial houses hastily put up shutters after opening for business this morning.

First outburst of violence occurred last night in Kingston's waterfront strike as striking stevedores attacked a car carrying food to workers who had stayed aboard a United Fruit Company vessel.

A company employee who fired a shot in the air in an attempt to intimidate the strikers was rushed and his revolver taken from him.

The strikers spread to the city's street cleaning department. Chinese grocery stores which feed the masses of Kingston's population were closed early by threats of the strikers. Bread vans were seized and the drivers torn from their seats, the bread being distributed rapidly among the hungry mobs.

a motorist may drive from Hazelton, B.C., across the western United States and on to Mexico City, a distance of nearly 4,000 miles.

Unaided, the province of British Columbia has pushed a road northward toward Alaska, but lack of funds prevented continuing farther into northern British Columbia and the Yukon Territory.

STATEMENT BY ICKES

Out of an earlier series of conferences here with Mr. Pattullo came the comment from Harold L. Ickes, Secretary of the Interior, that there appeared to be no barriers to arranging an international loan so the British Columbia link might be completed.

The Alaska highway proposal has been pending for 15 years. Congress took it up in 1930 with creation of a commission which reported three years later the road was feasible and could be built at a cost of about $20,000,000.

The plan is to build first an unpaved road, with the aim eventually of providing a concrete surface. The snowfall in the sections of British Columbia and Alaska to be traversed is actually less than in many states of this republic, the commission found.

Nine-tenths of the highway would be in Canada and most of the expense would fall on British Columbia, though much of the prospective benefits would accrue to the continental United States and the territory of Alaska.

DEFENCE LINK

Though the United States war and navy departments have not expressed official opinions, they are reported to favor the road as a weapon in the defence of Alaska and the northwestern United States.

The inter-American highway, extending 3,250 miles southward from the Texas border through Mexico, Guatemala, El Salvador, Honduras, Nicaragua, Costa Rica and Panama, has been approaching reality since the 1923 conference of American states at Santiago, Chile.

It already includes some 1,265 miles of all-weather roads, mostly paved or being paved; 1,425 miles of dry season roads, and 560 miles of trails. In Mexico and El Salvador construction has been advancing rapidly.

Extension of the inter-American highway into South America presents difficult problems. Some engineers have expressed belief that for a time at least the Canal Zone and La Guaria in Venezuela will have to be connected by ferry. The Simon Bolivar Highway already links Venezula, Colombia and Ecuador.

The total mileage from Panama to Buenos Aires on the shortest possible combination of routes is approximately 6,500 miles, and the total of all alternates is no less than 16,500 miles, the Pan-American Union has estimated.

VISITS PORTLAND

VANCOUVER (CP)—Premier T. D. Pattullo, who left here yesterday by airplane, is en route to Washington, D.C. He traveled south to visit Seattle and Portland, before going across the United States.

The Premier said he had "nothing to say" in regard to his trip. He originally intended leaving here next week-end for the United States capital.

Mr. Pattullo said he intended to visit Montreal and Ottawa after leaving Washington.

He recently returned from the east after conferring with United States and Canadian officials regarding the B.C.-Alaska highway proposal.

Anticipating his intended departure by nearly a week, Premier Pattullo left suddenly Saturday night for the east and provincial circles today were buzzing anew with speculation about the B.C.-Alaska highway project.

The reason for his sudden change of plans was not stated at the Legislative Buildings today, but it was understood to be in connection with the highway proposal.

The highway scheme made progress last week with the ratification by both U.S. Houses of a bill empowering President Roosevelt to appoint a commission on the subject to deal with a similar commission from Canada.

At the same time federal authorities said that negotiation of the highway plan was up to the province entirely.

calculated to end dangerous friction between the Praha government and Nazis on both sides of the German-Czech border.

Viscount Halifax, Foreign Secretary, repeated the Prime Minister's statement in the House of Lords. When he had finished there was no comment or questioning from either government or opposition benches.

"At the moment the situation seems to have eased somewhat," Mr. Chamberlain said.

Although he did not say so, it was presumed the British government had been instrumental in bringing the antagonists together after the Sudeten German party had refused to enter into negotiations offered by the Czechoslovak government.

ALL INFLUENCE

Mr. Chamberlain merely said on this point that "the principal concern of His Majesty's government has been to use all their influence" to bring about "peaceful negotiations." He continued:

"The government have represented to the Czechoslovakian government the need for taking every precaution for the avoidance of incidents and of making every possible effort to reach a comprehensive and lasting settlement with representatives of the Sudeten Party.

"In this His Majesty's government enjoyed the full co-operation of the French government.

"The Czechoslovakian government responded to this representation with the assurance that they appreciated the interest which His Majesty's government manifested in this question, and were resolved to seek an early complete solution."

APPEAL TO GERMANY

Mr. Chamberlain went one:

"The British government represented to the German government the urgent importance of reaching a settlement if European peace is to be preserved and have expressed their earnest desire that the German government should co-operate with them in facilitating an agreement.

"His Majesty's government at the same time informed the German government of the advice tendered in Prague (Praha) and of the assurances received from the Czechoslovakian government.

"The German Minister of Foreign Affairs said he welcomed the efforts being made by his Majesty's government. And that the German government fully shared their desire to see the negotiations succeed."

Rt. Hon. Clement Attlee, leader of the opposition, who had conferred with Mr. Chamberlain earlier in the day, said he would not press the Prime Minister for a further statement "in view of the tension in the world today."

Jan Masaryk, Czechoslovak minister to Great Britain, followed the Prime Minister's remarks from the diplomatic gallery along with Charles Corbin, French ambassador.

Before today's sitting of Parliament, leaders of the opposition in both houses were called to 10 Downing Street and went over the grave situation in central Europe with the Prime Minister and Viscount Halifax, Foreign Secretary.

Mr. Attlee and Lord Snell, Labor leaders in the Commons and the House of Lords, and Sir Archibald Sinclair and the Marquess of Crewe, for the Liberals, joined with the ministers in discussing the week-end developments in Czechoslovakia which gave Great Britain her most anxious days since the Austrian crisis of two months ago.

FRENCH SPEAK PLAINLY

PARIS (CP)—France put the question of peace or war squarely up to Germany today, leaving no doubt she would fight any unprovoked aggression against Czechoslovakia.

The calmness of Sunday's municipal elections in Czechoslovakia and the firm stand taken by France and Great Britain against possible German interference were considered in Paris to have eased the tension slightly.

Except for constant conferences at the foreign ministry and Premier Edouard Daladier's office in the national defence ministry, France outwardly was calm. The French feeling seemed to be hope for the best while preparing for the worst.

Le Journal, independent, said: "France continues to urge moderation along with Great Britain. We can do this with confidence since the French army and the British navy together constitute a considerable weight in the European balance of power."

The royalist Action Francaise declared that "in these grave hours much, if not all, depends on Great Britain."

An official French spokesman who Sunday night asserted France would mobilize in the event of any German aggression against Czechoslovakia, indicated the French belief the excitement over Czechoslovakia was due largely to Nazi tub-thumping to round up votes in the Czech municipal elections yesterday.

Bring Dramatic Honors to Victoria

Clark said the Toronto Masquers' production of Franz Molnar's three-act play, "The Guardsman," was the greatest and most difficult play presented at the festival.

"The production showed a great amount of care and intelligent direction," declared Clark, "as well as much acting that was brilliant. But reluctantly I decided it was not as brilliant or as good as "Hands Across the Sea."

Clark said the one-act play was only 1 per cent better than Toronto Masquers' production, given the award for the best English play, exclusive of the Bessborough Trophy winner.

A talented group from St. Boniface, Man., adjoining Winnipeg, captured honors for the best French production with a moving production of "Le Chant Du Berceau," by G. and M. Martinez Sierra, a full-length play of life in a cloistered convent in Spain.

Both winners of individual acting awards given by Lady Tweedsmuir, wife of the Governor-General, were from winning plays. Mrs. Pauling Boutal, St. Boniface player, won the prize for the best woman actor in French or English, and the prize for the best woman's performance in French presented by Le Comte Robert de Dampierre, French Minister to Canada, for her role as Sister Jeanne in "Le Chant Du Berceau."

Clark said he chose Mrs. Boutal from four candidates of almost equal merit, Marguerite Van Vooght, as the actress in "The Guardsman"; Mary Laidlaw as Gabby Maple in the Ottawa drama league production of "The Petrified Forest"; and Mrs. E. W. Hetherington as Lady Maureen Gilpin in the Victoria Beaux-Arts Society play "Hands Across the Sea."

Frank Rostance as the actor in "The Guardsman" was given the Lady Tweedsmuir award for the best male performance in French or English, repeating his victory of 1937. Paul Pelletier as the run-down engineer Tito in "Scampolo" by Le Caveau of Ottawa won the French Minister's prize for the best male performance in French.

Montreal Repertory Theatre, French section, won the Sir Barry Jackson prize for the best presentation at the festival finals of a Canadian play with a smart-moving production of "Maldonne," the story of a love triangle in an office, written in French by Arthur Prevost, 27-year-old Montreal newspaperman.

Two New Brunswick writers share the festival committee's $100 prize for the best play, written by an author domiciled in Canada, and entered in any regional festival. Mrs. H. C. L. Sweet, Saint John, N.B., who wrote "Small Potatoes," and J. H. Thurrott, Fredericton, N.B., author of "La Tour," shared the prize.

During formal ceremonies, speakers congratulated Winnipeg officials for their success in staging the festival, the first presented away from Ottawa since the Dominion competition started in 1932. More than 11,000 in all saw the performances here, compared with a maximum of 3,000 in Ottawa during the week.

"The 16 performances I have seen this week representing the best nonprofessional dramatic work now being done in the Dominion have convinced me your artistic standards are of the highest and your achievements show encouraging evidence of hard work, intelligence, devotion and talent," Mr. Clark said.

"Of the present and future value of this festival I haven't the slightest doubt. Without these great gatherings of theatre workers and enthusiasts you would find it extremely difficult to furnish that means of comparison and incentive to higher effort."

War Prisoners Fail In Escape Attempt

Number of Loyalists Killed at Pamplona When They Attack Guards

HENDAYE, France (AP)—Two thousand captured government militiamen killed several of their guards in the insurgent prison at Pamplona last night and, seizing arms, battled troops in a futile effort to escape.

The insurgent command at Irun said the uprising was quelled only after an undetermined number of prisoners had been killed and wounded.

Prisoners were said to have overpowered their guards in a carefully laid plot, shooting several. Then they broke into the guardroom, where firearms were stored. Barricading themselves there, they engaged in a fight with insurgent troops.

A government offensive on the long-quiet Catalonian front was reported today to have driven a wedge between key insurgent positions and between Tremp and Balaguer.

The insurgents, however, disputed government reports and asserted all attacks had been fought off.

LOCAL CHOIR TOPS CLASS

VANCOUVER (CP)—Competitors in British Columbia's 16th annual musical festival were back in their respective homes today, the high praise of three noted adjudicators still ringing in their ears.

The festival ended Saturday night with the adjudicators remarking on the high standard of competition produced by entrants from various British Columbia and Washington points.

The Victoria Ariel Singers ladies' choir, under the direction of Frank Tupman, won top honors for ladies' choirs in the festival Saturday night. They were given 177 marks, the highest award in the festival.

It remained for a Nelson junior orchestra, a 25-piece band under the direction of Mrs. G. Webb-Foster, which saved and practiced for a year to compete, to produce the highlight in the two weeks of competition.

Last Wednesday the little Nelson musicians realized their ambitions as they won the Shelly Cup against a 65-piece Kamloops orchestra and two Vancouver aggregations, and aroused the audience and adjudicator Maurice Jacobson alike to the highest pitch of enthusiasm in the entire festival.

APOLOGY FROM CZECHS TO REICH

CLASH AVERTED

Diplomats believed today that the general conflict which threatened to develop from the Czechoslovak-German crisis had been averted, at least temporarily.

(The Havas news agency said important leaders were gathered in Munich for a conference with Hitler at his Berchtesgaden villa tonight).

It appeared the storm of indignation caused by the shooting of two Germans at Eger had practically blown over for the time being.

MORE INCIDENTS

BERLIN (CP-Havas)—D.N.B., the official German news agency, tonight charged that Czechoslovak troops violated the German frontier for the third time in 48 hours when a military contingent attempted to set fire to several bridges just across the Czech border.

Included in the illuminated car parade will be a float from the Chinese Consolidated Benevolent Association, depicting the Goddess of the Moon holding court, the float with its legendary characters will bear the Goddess, attending fairies and will be followed by 40 Chinese girls in beautiful native costume.

The Canadian Legion Band will provide a concert from the location immediately in front of the auto park below the pavilion during the evening. H. L. Batey and the Victoria Male Voice Choir will lead community singing there, starting at 8 o'clock.

CHILDREN'S EVENTS

The morning programme will start with the school children's display in the Athletic Park at 10.30, prior to the checker and quoit tournaments at Beacon Hill and Pandora Avenue, respectively, and the afternoon sports program, including the gymkhana at the Willows and baseball at the Athletic Park.

AUTO RACER IMPROVED

and while the 2,000 fans looked on horror-stricken, Green was lifted from the cockpit and laid out on the edge of the track. He was placed in a car under the supervision of the provincial police highway patrol and rushed to the hospital, where he regained consciousness early Sunday morning.

The remaining cars were flagged down as soon as the accident occurred but the race resumed after Green and the damaged car had been removed from the track.

Lew McMurty, Seattle driver who injured his left leg and foot when he crashed into a light pole, recovered sufficiently yesterday to return home on the afternoon boat.

NO RELIEF SUMS FOR SIT-DOWNERS, SAYS MINISTRY

POLICE ON CALL

All city police leaves were cancelled. Men off duty were instructed to be ready to report for duty at any time.

The Vancouver City Museum closed for a week "for its annual cleanup."

The $500 given to the hotel demonstrators will be used up today. The men made no undertaking that they would not resume their sit-down today if no permanent solution to their problem was forthcoming. A solution in the form of a government works project is suggested.

The committee meeting today was arranged by Mayor Miller, who Saturday criticized as a show of "weakness" the city's payment of $500 to the hotel demonstrators.

The sum was decided on by city aldermen before the return of the mayor from a nearby resort.

The mayor moved no delegation on behalf of the unemployed be heard until they responded to his week-end request that they vacate the Art Gallery.

CHURCHMEN HEARD

Several aldermen expressed opposition to the mayor's motion and he withdrew it, temporarily at least, to allow a delegation from the United Church to make representations.

First speaker from the church was Rev. Hugh Dobson, who counselled "patience even to the extreme degree" in dealing with the demonstrators.

Sending men to prairie homes as advised by Labor Minister George S. Pearson would do no good, he claimed, because "half the people of Saskatchewan were on relief."

OTTAWA IS FIRM

OTTAWA (CP)—Threats or mass demonstrations in British Columbia or elsewhere will not influence the government in the allocation of money for unemployment relief works, Hon. Norman Rogers, Minister of Labor, told the House of Commons this afternoon when asked about the occupation of a hotel, the post office and the Art Gallery at Vancouver by single unemployed men.

C. Grant MacNeil, C.C.F., Vancouver North, declared the city of Vancouver could not go on indefinitely coping with the problem of transient unemployed and he "earnestly implored" the minister to look on the Vancouver situation as a problem in which some definite and immediate federal government action was necessary.

It was not enough, Mr. MacNeil said, to say the provincial Labor Department was arranging to meet the situation, because neither the province nor the city could handle the transient situation without definite assurance the federal government would co-operate.

STEVENS SPEAKS

Referring to the minister's declaration the government would not be influenced by demonstrations, Hon. H. H. Stevens, Reconstruction, Kootenay East, asked the minister if it was not true that in recent years on many occasions the government had not acted until there were demonstrations.

The unemployed were learning that demonstrations would bring action from the government. It had been true in Regina and in Vancouver, Mr. Stevens said. It had been notable that in most instances the demonstrations were orderly.

Mr. Stevens also took exception to the minister's statement that keeping order in Vancouver was the responsibility of the local police.

"Of course that is constitutionally true," Mr. Stevens said, "but what are the police of a city to do when thousands of men gather together?

"The police are as human as any of us. They know these men are not criminals and not anxious to break the law.

"A riot is a terrible thing," Mr. Stevens continued. "When men reach the point where their anger gets the best of them, then you have an angry mob—and I don't know anything more terrible than an angry mob."

The British Columbia government, now supported by Ottawa in its policy of shipping transients back to their own provinces, has no intention of granting relief to "sit-downers" in Vancouver public buildings, Hon. George S. Pearson, Minister of Labor, reiterated today.

Standing firmly on the principle that British Columbia should not have the responsibility for the men who could have got farm placement positions on the prairies last winter if they had not come to the coast, Mr. Pearson told a local representative of the Relief Project Workers' Union this morning the government had nothing further to discuss with the men.

"For three years I have maintained that without the transients British Columbia could handle its unemployment problem," Mr. Pearson said. "We have offered them transportation back to their own provinces. When they get there their position will be no different than it is in British Columbia. The federal government is now supporting us in this view."

The R.P.W.U. was circulating a petition today among Victoria business men seeking support for their demand of a government works program. They said there were 200 men in Victoria needing assistance.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States Supreme Court broadened the field of federal taxation today by holding that the federal government can impose levies on athletic contests at state universities and on the salaries of employees of the New York port authority.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—
And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go
The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Harmful poisons go into the body, and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks pink.
A mere bowel movement doesn't always get at the cause. You need something that works on the liver as well. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless and gentle, they make the bile flow freely. They do the work of calomel but have no calomel or mercury in them. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name! Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c

New Loan Plan Interests Calgary

CALGARY (CP) — A new federal policy of making loans direct to municipalities, announced at Ottawa by the Minister of Labor, has aroused the interest of Mayor Andrew Davison of Calgary.

Mr. Davison telegraphed Ottawa for further information on the loan policy.

"I want to get it as soon as possible," he said, but did not disclose if he would seek aid under the new plan.

In the Commons last Friday, Hon. Norman L. Rogers, the Labor Minister, announced legislation would be introduced "providing additional encouragement to low cost and low rental housing," and to provided for "low interest loans to municipalities for self-liquidating projects."

Under previous loan programs, the federal treasury dealt only with the provinces from which the municipalities obtained their local aid.

Conservatives Name Delegates

DUNCAN — Four delegates from Nanaimo Federal Conservative Association were named Saturday to attend the party's national convention at Ottawa in July as follows: F. S. Cunliffe, president, Nanaimo; W. O. Wallace, Brentwood; Percy Mickleburgh, Saanich, and F. Carberry, Duncan. A resolution was passed endorsing the unemployment and social insurance legislation sponsored by the former Bennett administration. It was decided to choose a candidate at the next annual meeting in September to carry the party standard in the riding.

Suffocation Caused Deaths

Inquest Verdict on Killing of Five Miners in Alberta Explosion

HINTON, Alta. (CP) — Death by suffocation caused by a gas explosion was the verdict recorded Saturday night by the coroner's jury which inquired into the deaths of five miners in the March 30 blast in the Hinton Collieries in this coalmining area, 165 miles northwest of Edmonton.

On suggestion of Dr. E. A. Braithwaite of Edmonton, coroner, the jury expressed gratitude for the bravery displayed by the rescue crews and Mine Manager L. G. Chavignaud.

Five men were killed and five others injured in the blast. Those killed were: Tony Pastushak, Martin Sprela, George Blcha, William Ilecka and Peter Philipino.

The jury's verdict said "ignition of the gas apparently was caused by a drill."

A score of witnesses were heard during the inquest sessiohs which opened last Tuesday. Among them were the five injured men—Tony Baumbartner, Reginald Williams, Gus Kubec, Jonas Pallo and William Aitken Sr., fire boss. They described the explosion and told of flames coming from a corner where a cutting machine was in use.

Big Crowd At Nanaimo Rodeo

Island Town Opens Empire Day Celebration Program

NANAIMO—The first day of Nanaimo's two-day celebration of Empire Day was held under ideal weather conditions Saturday, concluding with half of Nanaimo's first rodeo, participated in by cowboys from several western states, the interior of British Columbia and other points.

Two thousand people were in attendance, and Tuesday's final of the rodeo is expected to draw twice this number. Bucking horses and bucking steers, roping and milking contests, fancy riding and trick roping were the features, staged by some of the best experts in the rodeo contests of the world.

Nanaimo Gyros acted as ushers, fence repairers and general utility men around the grounds, while the rodeo was guided by professional hands. All surplus funds are to be devoted to Nanaimo Hospital.

Winners of contests Saturday were:

Steer Riding—1, Ike Roberts; 2, Dave Abrahams; 3, Jimmy Robillard.

Roping and Milking Cow—1, Slim Gates; 2, Bill Crowley; 3, Jack Hill.

Bronco Riding—1, Buster Vipond; 2, Ike Roberts.

Steer Wrestling—1, Joe Sledge; 2, Jim Williams.

Calf Roping—1, Harry Shuttleworth; 2, Slim Gates.

International Studies Urged

Canadian League of Nations Society Hears Scholarship Proposal

OTTAWA (CP)—Definite stimulus to thorough study of international affairs in Canadian universities would result if wealthy men or corporations would endow lectureships in the subject and give scholarships, W. E. C. Harrison, associate professor of history at Queen's University, Kingston, said in a paper read to the League of Nations Society in Canada here today.

Delegate from the society to the International Conference of Teachers in London, Eng., last April, Mr. Harrison reported the meeting had placed great stress on the need for providing instruction in international relations for teachers and university students.

Mr. Harrison suggested also money be raised to send Canadian students abroad because the human material for study "is to be found not in books, but across the frontiers of the world."

Boat Capsizes; Two Men Drown

PETERBOROUGH, Ont. (CP) —Two men were drowned when a rowboat capsized in the Otonabee River 10 miles from here late Saturday night. A third man swam to safety, but became lost in a swamp and was unable to notify authorities until nearly three hours after the accident. The men drowned were James Murphy and Charles Joyes, both 25. Douglas Simmons, 29, saved himself.

Bureau of Mines Now at Alberni

PORT ALBERNI—A new West Coast Bureau of Mines has been formed here with Gordon M. Campbell as president and Archie McFie as secretary. An executive of businessmen will be chosen.

Object of the new bureau is to have a central office where prospectors who have discovered ore of good assay may get in touch with mining men interested in development. It is prompted by the new mining developments in the West Coast area. Information on all staking and showings in the district will be gathered by the bureau.

VANCOUVER DEATH IS INVESTIGATED

VANCOUVER (CP)—Gus Larson died in a hospital Sunday night after a 50-foot fall from an east-end hotel. Police said he had a self-inflicted throat wound in addition to fractures of both legs and internal injuries.

A razor and a note were found in the man's room.

Detectives held another guest from the same hotel for a mental examination. He ran to police headquarters, clad only in a pair of shorts, and asked for protection from "short wave radio waves" that were bothering him.

ITALY'S BREAD PRICE UP

ROME (AP)—The government wheat committee met Saturday at the call of Premier Mussolini and considered Italy's drought-created wheat shortage and authorized an increase of approximately 7 per cent in wheat prices. The committee fixed the price of Italian wheat at from 135 to 150 lire a quintal, or about $1.94 to $2.15 a bushel.

Charles A. Gillis Dies in Regina

REGINA (CP) — Charles A. Gillis, 52, prominent in Saskatchewan curling and Masonic circles, died here Saturday. He was a member of the Saskatchewan Curling Association executive for more than six years and a past master of Aneroid Masonic Lodge and at one time was secretary of the Regina Builders' Exchange.

Pioneer's Death By Monoxide Gas

BLAIRMORE, Alta. (CP)—In an automobile filled with monoxide fumes, Fred Chardon, 70, Cardston pioneer, was found dead Sunday. In the car was a length of rubber hose running from the exhaust pipe.

The body was found by a brother, Paul Chardon, when he entered a garage where the car was parked. Coroner F. J. Turner, who announced there would be no inquest, said the man had been dead about two hours.

Friends reported Chardon had been ill and despondent since last fall, when his wife died at Fernie, B.C. Her body was brought to Cardston for burial two weeks ago.

Sasquatch Days Are Celebrated

HARRISON HOT SPRINGS, B.C. (CP)—Hundreds of Indians gathered here today for a celebration named after the Legendary Sasquatches, hairy creatures who Indians say roam the high hills of this district 80 miles east of Vancouver.

Sasquatch days is the name given to the festival, but just what the Sasquatches are nobody knows. No white man has ever seen them, and only a few Indians claim an actual visitation.

But the hairy giants are a reality in the Indian mind. Mothers warn their children to behave with the admonition: "The Sasquatches will get you."

Legend has it the Sasquatches did get one Indian woman and carried her off to the hills. When she came back she told all who would listen that the Sasquatches possessed the power of showing her the Indian village where she had lived, even though it was miles away.

The Indians were gathering today from reservations in the coast district of British Columbia and the State of Washington. Parades, riding exhibitions and war canoe races on Harrisan Lake make up the two-day program.

Hon. A. Wells Gray, Minister of Lands, will be made an Indian chieftain by the Chehalis tribe of the Harrison district. His native name will be Siam Chee' Quets Sasquatch—"Chief of the Big Timbers."

Empire Day

TO THE EDITOR: — A YEAR AGO ON Empire Day we were all acclaiming with affectionate fervor our newly-crowned King and wishing him and his charming consort a long, happy and prosperous reign over a vast Empire scattered over every quarter of the globe but inseparably united by ties of loyalty to the throne, traditions of freedom and justice and noble ideals of service and of righteousness.

Today King George the Sixth is firmly established, not merely on the throne of his ancestors, but in the hearts of his people, faithful to the pledge which he gave at his Coronation, that the welfare of his subjects would be the paramount aim of his life.

As president of the Empire Day Movement, I send you all hearty greetings. I feel confident that our Empire is the chief bulwark of peace, freedom and good government in the world, and earnestly hope that whatever be our station in life, our race or our occupation, we may, by God's help, follow the example of our King and Queen, make the service of God and our fellowmen the ideal of our lives. Also, that by mutual helpfulness, industry, integrity and the consciousness that we all belong to the same great human family of the British Commonwealth, we may maintain unabated its powerful influence in promoting the happiness, the peace and the progress of mankind.

(VISCOUNT) BLEDISLOE.
President of the Empire Day Movement, and former Governor-General of New Zealand.
LONDON, England.

Breathing Spell

EUROPE HAS SURVIVED ANOTHER major week-end crisis without an outbreak of open warfare. German-Czechoslovakian border incidents arising out of an upsurge of racial feelings had the world fearful of another Serajevo spark. But with the first weekly installment of the elections in Czechoslovakia over without more trouble, tension is eased and Europe is today breathing more easily—for a spell.

The situation, of course, is still critical, confused and loaded with explosive possibilities. Solidifying of the pro-Nazi vote in the Sudeten German areas of Czechoslovakia and a corresponding response to the Czech appeals in the non-German areas, indicates that the racial cleavage in the country is definite.

Hitler proclaims himself to be "the protector of Germans wherever they may be," and the Sudeten Germans evidently want him as their protector. Until these aspirations are satisfied or diverted, an incident at any moment may set off the Czechoslovakian dynamite. So many commitments have been made over Czechoslovakia by the Powers of Europe on one side or the other, that it comes down to finding a way for much face-saving if an explosion is to be averted. The face-saving ingenuity displayed by diplomats during recent years and the fact that no country really wants or is prepared for war, however, encourages us to continue hopeful.

Blue Was Blue to Them

AT A TIME WHEN DICTATORS ARE rocking the international boat, when democracy is being spurned by the Hitlers and the Mussolinis, when taxation is finding higher planes from which to gaze down in scorn on the harassed wage-earner — with all this going on it was almost soothing to read about the strike of the seamen on the French liner Champlain the other day.

These sturdy mariners rose up in protest—or, possibly, sat down—at Le Havre, because their employers had given them the wrong kind of uniforms. Their working clothes, they said, were the wrong shade of blue, and did not have stars on the sleeves. Because this was so they held up the vessel's scheduled sailing.

Now there have been strikes, disputes, squabbles and set-tos enough, in recent years, Heaven knows; some of these have involved seamen, protesting against the sailor's age-old lot of cramped quarters, hard work and bad food. But this is something different.

Here we get no hackneyed complaint of moldy salt beef, stuffy fo'c'sles or brutal first mates; no recital of the dangers of gale, reef and shipwreck. Instead, it is something much simpler. The sailor's inalienable right to look picturesque has been infringed. Hence, trouble.

Perhaps this is not quite as mirthful as it may seem in the way in which we have referred to it. For there are plenty of callings on this earth in which that right to look romantic and colorful is one of the principal incentives. Perhaps, too, Robert Burns was only partly right; perhaps we do have a good share of that faculty of seeing ourselves as others see us. We may get the picture out of focus at times, but we do remain conscious of the way we look in other people's eyes, and it means a lot to us.

Persuade a man that he looks like a fine fellow and a gay adventurer and he will take on almost any job and put up with almost anything. A blue uniform and stars on the sleeve can make up for a lot.

The 24th in Victoria

ONLY GOOD WEATHER APPEARS necessary to bring back Victoria Day in the city this year with at least a fair share of its former glory. Old-time residents recall many fine celebrations when the whole city was in a friendly holiday spirit and the citizens mingled like one big happy family. Although the automobile with its opportunities to visit distant spots has caused the crowds to leave Victoria in recent years, May 24 shows signs of recapturing the citizens' holiday spirit of the Victoria of old.

The May 24 committee is to be complimented on arranging this year an excellent program that will have an appeal to all. Especially are the members of the committee to be complimented on arranging that every family regardless of circumstances may enjoy the holiday. Every family in Greater Victoria on relief has been invited to the excellent sports program at the Willows Tuesday without paying for admittance. The bonfire and fireworks and torchlight procession at Beacon Hill Park will also, of course, be events for everybody. The band concert which thousands enjoyed under perfect weather conditions at Beacon Hill Park Sunday made a promising start for the celebrations.

The Trophy Comes West

THE EFFORTS OF VICTORIA'S BEAUX Arts in the theatre have been crowned with the Bessborough Trophy. The team that went to Winnipeg from that organization has captured top honors at the Dominion Drama Festival. They won with their production of Noel Coward's "Hands Across the Sea," in open competition with productions of other plays by the outstanding drama groups of all Canada.

All Victoria will join in congratulating the winning team. They have brought distinction to our city, with the coveted Bessborough Trophy on its first trip west, finding its resting place in Victoria. Their victory will further stimulate interest in the many Little Theatre organizations, whose efforts during recent years have added much to the cultural life of the community.

In few cities of like size has the Little Theatre movement flourished as in Victoria. Through its medium much talent has been uncovered and developed. In this process the Beaux Arts group has been enterprising. It gives us all joy to have local players in whose competence we have had faith accorded the highest national recognition.

Notes

You can usually tell which side is sensible and right. The other one gets out all the smart propaganda.

The Flood story has always seemed logical. The only way to reform the world is to start with a new generation.

A man in Chicago has confessed to writing 12,000 rubber cheques. If a judge lays all the offences end to end, they will justify a long stretch.

A duel is scheduled in Cuba between a government official and a columnist. The latter may or may not find his rapier-like wit useful in this situation.

Hitler is safe in allowing the notes of the Liberty Bell to be heard in a coming symphony concert. He knows nobody in Germany would recognize them by this time.

Cows escaped recently from a run-away freight train in Colorado, and the funny thing is that nobody thought of the obvious solution—the one carried on the front of the engine.

In England the busy signal will be supplanted in the near future by the telephone operator's announcement, "The line in engaged." A London columnist suggests that when two women are talking, might be more accurate to say: "The line is married."

WHAT WAS REAL REASON FOR CENSORING KEN MAGAZINE IN CANADA?

From Toronto Saturday Night

We have been reading with our customary care, the article, "Los Angeles Sporting Girl," which led to suppression of the May 5 Ken in Canada and in parts of the United States. We have also been reading several other articles in the same issue, and have arrived at the rather strongly held opinion that it was not the prostitution article at which the suppression was really aimed. Ken is violently anti-Fascist, and its articles on the motives of British foreign policy are in our opinion highly unfair in interpretation though well informed as to facts; and this might have caused some annoyance to Canadian censors. More important than these, however, and highly likely to be objected to both in Canada and the United States, are the article and illustrations contributed by Mr. Hemingway, the United States novelist and war correspondent, who ardently supports the Spanish loyalists. The combination on one page of a picture of some scores of Barcelona children dismembered in an air raid, and another of the Archbishop and Canon of Santiago, the Bishop of Madrid and the Bishop of Lugo giving the Fascist salute on the steps of a cathedral (while Generals Aranda and Davila give merely a correct military salute) is calculated to cause considerable annoyance in various quarters. We regret that the Canadian censorship did not adopt the method employed in some other countries, of blacking out the disliked portions of the periodical, thus leaving us in no doubt as to what we are and are not permitted to see or read.

POCKETBOOK STATESMANSHIP

ACCORDING TO OTTAWA dispatches in this paper from my able friend, Norman Macleod, the Federal Government is deeply concerned about Premier Aberhart's latest distortions and burlesques of Social Credit. The most recent chapter in the long-drawn-out farce of Aberhartism is a bill which, according to Mr. Macleod, gradually taxes all mortgages out of existence and, in fact, repudiates private debts. This has nothing to do with Social Credit, of course, and must make fellows like Major Douglas writhe in their beds at night, if they haven't long ago passed the writhing stage.

The Federal Government is deeply concerned lest the honest and thrifty people of Alberta shall lose their money. So it will probably disallow the Alberta legislation—may have done so, in fact, by the time this is printed. The Federal Government is properly concerned about maintaining the present structure of our society so long as it knows of no adequate substitute to turn to and certainly Aberhartism is a poor substitute. But why isn't the Federal Government concerned lest the honest and thrifty people all over Canada shall lose their liberties?

The Alberta laws are to be thrown out because they strike at the root of our financial system. The Quebec Padlock Law is allowed to stand because it merely strikes at the root of our social system. The Alberta laws scandalize the Federal Government because they are likely to injure our pocketbooks. The Quebec law stands because it merely injures our liberties.

However, the Federal Government may be right in its interpretation of public opinion in this matter. The public apparently doesn't care about its liberties. In our fathers' time the passage of the Quebec Padlock Law would have unloosed a storm of protest throughout the nation, and, if necessary, an armed rebellion. Today no one seems to worry about it.

And many Liberals tell me that the Padlock Law is quite all right because it is only aimed at Communists; precisely as Communists would defend dictatorship by saying it was only aimed at capitalists; of fascists would defend their castor-oil regime by explaining patiently that internment camps were only for communists.

People who don't understand the implications of the Padlock Law, its effect in undermining the whole structure of citizenship in this country, have no real understanding of democracy at all and had better become fascists or communists right away and be honest about it. And any Federal Government which fails to maintain the basic rights of Canadians anywhere, any time, has retreated and abdicated and confessed that it would rather carry Quebec in the next election than do its duty. Perhaps the King government doesn't intend to do that. Perhaps when it disallows Aberhartism to save our pocketbooks it will disallow Duplessism to save our democracy. But Mr. King had better hurry if he is interested in his place in history.

DULL MATTER

THIS, AS YOU MAY well complain, is a serious and dull matter, out of place in a ribald department of this sort. Of course that is true, but it is so much easier to be serious and profound than to be flippant. It requires a tremendous concentration of intelligence to be silly. But any fool can be serious and most fools are.

At our cabin the other night I was reading an essay on this very point by the great Chesterton and he said it would be easier to write all the editorials of The London Times than to write one joke in Tit-Bits.

How true this is! It requires very little ability to talk or write seriously. Only one man in ten million can do anything else and then only with the exhaustion of his inner fire. Chesterton was one of the fellows who could be absurd and he was greater in his absurdity than any of the current pundits, the profound fellows who never smiled. They just didn't know how.

Dullness and gravity are so easy, as Chesterton said. That is why, he said, so many old, tired men go into politics. That is why so many men write letters to the editor about our economic system and so few write about our spring flowers, or the habits of humming birds or the obscenities of Pandora Avenue. Any dub can view our economic system with alarm. It takes some ability to say anything about humming birds, flowers and the obscenities of Pandora Avenue.

That is why every man in the newspaper business strikes an attitude of wisdom, summons up an impressive frown, clenches his fists and writes something alarming whenever he is tired and has no original ideas. When you can merely say something wise, it saves you thinking. When you are merely saving the nation, you can take it easy. Foolish things only come with hard work and deep thought. Any fool can be wise. It takes a very wise man indeed to be truly foolish.

WHAT UMBRELLAS ARE FOR

From Chicago Daily News

A New York contractor recently testified that Local 3, of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, had demanded that employers furnish its members with free beer on the job, with raincoats and with sun umbrellas. This mention will recall memories to many Chicagoans—memories of the days when "Umbrella Mike" Boyle and his electrical workers' union were in their prime, of the old Briggs House, and of 333 West Madison Street, where Mike was wont to stand with one foot on the brass rail, his umbrella hanging by its crooked handle from the bar.

It is said that sometimes after discussing working conditions with contractors at 333, Mike, on reaching his office, would find that persons unknown had carelessly dropped a big roll of greenbacks into the voluminous folds of his rain stick.

Apparently the New Yorkers have a lot to learn. They seem to think umbrellas are something to keep the sun or the rain off the workers. How naive!

A man finally outgrows all boyish weaknesses except the habit of cheerfully slaving for the woman who brags on him.

Two Premiers Plan Moves to Crack Aberhart, Hepburn

By NORMAN H. MacLEOD
OTTAWA.

THE MOST interesting prospect the immediate political scene holds out is that Prime Minister Mackenzie King and Premier "Billy" Patterson of Saskatchewan are going to play some high-class ball with each other during the next three weeks and that important national consequences are going to be bound up in the outcome.

While there may not be any explicit agreement between the two Liberal leaders—indeed, it is almost certain there is not—informed circles on Parliament Hill believe there is a very definite understanding that Mr. King is to take care of Premier William Aberhart for the Saskatchewan Government, and that, in return, Mr. Patterson will do a fair knuckle massage job on Premier Mitchell F. Hepburn for the federal authorities.

The Dominion Government's plan of campaign will be the disallowance of the Alberta debt and mortgage legislation now before the Federal Cabinet for review. In this way the Ottawa authorities will demonstrate beyond any power of the Saskatchewan voters to doubt that Social Credit, with its associated policies of debt cancelation, credit repudiation, and levy on accumulated capital, is not feasible.

Premier Patterson, for his part, will fight his campaign largely on the contention that Premier Hepburn represents a major threat to national unity. The Saskatchewan Premier will urge the people of the middle prairie province to endorse the brief for national unity which the administration presented to the Rowell Commission.

The issue upon which Hon. Mr. Patterson will appeal to the Saskatchewan people to vote, in other words, will be commendation of the Patterson brief before the Rowell Commission and condemnation of the Hepburn brief before the same body.

A PART OF THE hope which underlies this Saskatchewan strategy is, of course, that the attention of the voters can be diverted from Premier Aberhart and his Social Credit promises and directed against Premier Hepburn, whom it is proposed to represent as the arch-enemy of the prairies in the east, who must be rebuked at all costs.

Before Mr. Hepburn can be used to draw the fire of the western voters, however, it is recognized that the debt and mortgage cancelation promises of Premier "Bible Bill" Aberhart must be deflated. The Saskatchewan Liberals recognize that the Social Credit Premier need not promise monthly dividends to the people to be successful. If he is left in possession of the slogan, "Vote Social Credit and Vote Your Debts Away," he could still sweep the province, even without his dividend promises—which it is throwing in as mere good measure to the tune of a pledge of $3,000 per year for a family of four.

So long as the Albertan legislation recently passed is allowed to stand, Premier Aberhart can point to the feasibility of debt cancelation and mortgage cancelation legislation. That is the situation, consequently, with which the federal authorities must deal. The understanding is that they will do so within the next few days.

THE MATTER has been under consideration on Parliament Hill for the past 10 days. Department of Justice officials have been studying the Albertan bills, and they are said to have found ample grounds for disallowing the three which deal with debts and mortgages, but to have concluded that the 7 per cent production tax lies within the province's jurisdiction.

At the same time, the Saskatchewan Liberal organization is understood to have canvassed the situation carefully and to have advised the Ottawa authorities that the reaction to disallowance in the prairie province would be favorable. The voters must have the unfeasibility of Social Credit legislation demonstrated, it was held, and disallowance was looked upon as the best mehod of proclaiming its futility.

That the Federal Government will fail to follow the advice of the law officers of the Crown, reinforced by the political advice of the Saskatchewan machine, is hardly likely. Announcement of disallowance, consequently, is expected from the Minister of Justice almost any day—possibly before the present week is over.

The step will commit the federal authorities to a definite policy of resisting Social Credit in its persistent attempt to flout the constitution and pass debt repudiation legislation and generally cause economic chaos. That the battle against the Aberhart forces will be won with the first major engagement is hardly to be expected. The Albertan Premier is said to have boasted that his Legislature can pass new laws just as rapidly as the Dominion authorities can disallow them.

SCARING OFF LENDERS

To the Editor:—According to your editorial of May 16, it would appear that the terms of the Home Owners' Security Act of Social Credit are so exceedingly drastic it is very doubtful if many will be found foolish enough, or philanthropic enough, to loan money on these conditions.

As Canada needs a greater population for her splendid country, it would appear the height of folly to allow Social Cerdit to thus cut at one of the roots necessary to progress. Those who loan money are also entitled to some security and consideration, or they will simply refuse to play ball.

J. AINSER.

PASTEURIZATION

To the Editor:—The news item announcing that the Victoria Medical Society favored pasteurization of milk for Victoria and surrounding municipalities evokes some pertinent queries.

1. At the same time that at least one large milk distributing concern has been campaigning to popularize pasteurization this statement is made, yet the "benefits" of this method have been known for over 30 years. Why?

2. The bald statement of the passing of the resolution without the slightest clarification of the dubious protests made by different elements of the public, including milk producers and progressive and liberal thinkers, and not even a faint gesture towards the reasonable arguments advanced against pasteurization savors of the attitude of some politicians—"the public be damned." Why not answer categorically the many questions raised against it?

3. Was it a unanimous decision?

HANS KROEGER.

TRANSIENT PROBLEM

To the Editor:—The transient problem with which this province is periodically afflicted is national in scope. Newspapers throughout the country each fall write editorials to the effect that their own particular municipality is the only place which has this problem to deal with. In the eastern provinces they claim that the influx if transients arrive from the western provinces, while the western provinces claim they come from the east.

This propaganda, as it is exploited, constitutes a black lie which has the effect of misleading the citizens of this country and gives rise to false bias, ill-feeling.

The single men are forced by circumstances to become transients, in that municipalities refuse to accept them as having residential status, especially those from the British Isles. By reason of having seasonal jobs in various parts of the country they are unable to establish themselves in any one municipality because their homes are right on their jobs, such as logging camps, etc. The truth of this problem ought to be honestly portrayed to the public.

THREE YUKONERS SIT UP

From a Yukon Correspondent

SO MANY times during the life of that mythical person, the average man, has he given as an alibi, "I was sitting up with a sick friend," that when he does actually sit up all night watching over a pal or buddy, it is something to write home about.

Imagine then, if you can, three fellows in the Yukon's winter fastness keeping watch during a day and a night over a friend who had dislocated his shoulder and who was tossing in agony for the whole of that period. Three fellows tending fires, keeping the water boiling in several pots, kettles and pans and applying hot and cold fomentations all that time. Then, stranger still, imagine it all taking place without even the smell of a bottle!

A three-day visit to Carmacks had come to a happy conclusion. The toboggan was ready, the dogs eager to be going. Taking a twist of the "gee" line about his left wrist the departing guest called, "A-l-l right!" and the team of five dogs bounded forward. The day was warm and the trail was slick, so that before the traveler had gone 50 feet the toboggan had gathered considerable speed.

A sharp turn just outside the gate gave the huskies an excellent opportunity to execute one of their fancy swerves, which they immediately did, with disastrous results to the lone rider on the swaying toboggan. The front was pulled suddenly to the left by the "wheel" dog, but a rut in the road caught the back of the toboggan, turning it completely over and throwing the driver headlong. The slight inconvenience of an overturned toboggan with its handlebars dragging had little or no effect upon the dogs' wild homeward dash, with the result that the "gee" line suddenly snapped taut. There was a cry of pain—the traveler became a patient.

The accident happened at noon. Fifteen minutes later the dogs had been rounded up and brought back, flaunting their tails curled high above their backs and stepping out as eagerly as though they were still heading home. Their master, meanwhile, was far from appreciating their jaunty air. It had been the cause of his misfortune and their triumphant return, had he noticed it, would have appeared decidedly out of place. Having cut off the victim's clothes, placed him on a bed and rested his rigid arm upon pillows, the three friends began their vigil. All that afternoon, all that night and all the next morning did they minister to the needs of their buddy until the arrival of a doctor by plane.

The three friends had sat up all night with a sick friend but, and this was the most ironical part of it all, they had no need of an alibi — they were all bachelors.

Counsellors Chosen As Travelers Conclude Convention Here

R. A. Duncan of Tacoma was named grand counsellor and W. L. Woodhouse of Victoria, grand junior counsellor, as officers were installed at the conclusion of the fortieth annual session of the Grand Council, United Commercial Travelers of America, Washington, Oregon and British Columbia section, at the Empress Hotel Saturday.

Spokane was chosen as the city where the next grand council sessions will be held in May, 1939.

About 300 members and their wives attended the banquet, installation of officers and grand ball, which wound up the convention Saturday evening. Herbert Anscomb, M.P.P., was chairman at the banquet, while E. B. McMaster, Vancouver, past supreme counsellor, installed the grand council officers.

F. P. Walker, past grand counsellor for Nebraska, was honored with a past counsellor's jewel and mayor-elect John C. Siegle, Tacoma, was presented to the council during the Saturday afternoon session. W. L. Woodhouse was toastmaster at a luncheon at the Empress Hotel at noon, and in the afternoon the ladies visited Butchart's Gardens and Government House.

BANQUET FOR LIBERAL TEAM

Members of Intermediate League Soccer Champions Entertained

Football Club, Intermediate League champions, and a number of invited guests, gathered in Liberal headquarters on Saturday evening for the football club's first annual banquet. It was reported at the get-together that the team was in fine shape and has high hopes of turning back the Victoria West squad from senior company in their impending Provincial Cup engagement.

Ed. Whyte, manager, welcomed the players and guests and complimented Captain Hiram Casilio on his selection of the team which out of 27 games won 20, lost four and drew three. The Liberals scored 95 goals during the season and only had 45 scored against them. Very few teams could show a record like that, said Manager Whyte. He hoped the team would stay together for another season and noted that by entering cup matches with senior teams it was good experience for the players. Whyte paid tribute to Fred Oliver, secretary of the Intermediate League, who, he said, had done much to advance football and was responsible for the organization of the league last season.

In a short talk Oliver said he had got the league organized because he saw so many players on the sidelines who were unable to get into the senior leagues. He said arrangements are now being made for an Intermediate League provincial cup series next season between Victoria and Vancouver elevens.

OTHER SPEAKERS

Ed. Bourke, president of the Young Liberal Association, said the team was a representation that the association was mighty proud of and complimented them for their sportsmanship on the field. Other speakers were Cecil Dixon, captain of the James Island team; Jimmy Lynch, member of the selection committee; Ron Fairclough, secretary of the sports club, and Tommy Grey, trainer.

At the conclusion of the banquet Captain Casilio presented Ed. Whyte with a silver plate with all the names of the players engraved on it as a token of appreciation from the players.

Bert Lilley, well-known local comedian, contributed a number of humorous songs and stories, while Elinor Moffat and Mrs. E. M. Whyte handled arrangements for the banquet.

PLAY DAY IS BIG SUCCESS

Girl Students Engage in Fine Sports Programme at Shawnigan Lake

Nearly 150 girls took part in a "play day" held at Shawnigan Lake, Saturday. The group consisted of students from Victoria and Oak Bay High Schools, Strathcona Lodge School and St. Margaret's Private School, who took part in competitive sports.

The program got under way at 10.30 with the track events being run off. In the 60-yard dash Barbara Mackay of Victoria High School took first place, and Margaret Junget of Oak Bay High School was a close second. Nancy Fleck of the Shawnigan School came third. In the broad jump Nancy Fleck of Shawnigan Lake leaped her way to first place with a jump of 14 feet 6 inches. Jill Cavenagh, also of Shawnigan Lake, came second with a jump of 13 feet 11 inches. Evelyn Aitkin of Oak Bay High School, was third with 13 feet 8½ inches. Darlaine Woodburn of Victoria High took the high jump with a jump of 4 feet 8 inches. Nancy Fleck and Jill Cavenagh of Shawnigan Lake tied for second place with jumps of 4 feet 7 inches.

Following the track events three softball games were held. Victoria High defeated Strathcona Lodge School, 6 to 1. Oak Bay High downed Strathcona Lodge School, 8 to 5, and Victoria High beat Oak Bay, 7 to 2. After the softball games Miss Gildea, principal of Strathcona Lodge School, entertained the participants at lunch.

Later the girls engaged in some keenly fought tennis matches in which Strathcona Lodge beat Victoria High, 4 to 3; St. Margaret's School beat Oak Bay High, 6 to 1; Victoria High beat St. Margaret's School, 4 to 3; Strathcona Lodge beat Oak Bay High, 5 to 2; Strathcona Lodge beat St. Margaret's School, 4 to 3, and Victoria High beat Oak Bay, 6 to 1.

A basketball game between St. Margaret's School and Strathcona Lodge School ended in a 13 to 12 win for St. Margaret's.

National Council Meets

Annual Conference Has Formal Opening In Vancouver

VANCOUVER (CP) — Several hundred women who make "national good housekeeping" their unpaid business, began a six-day conference here after Lieutenant-Governor E. W. Hamber and Mayor George Miller today had joined in officially opening the 45th annual meeting of the National Council of Women of Canada.

Women from all parts of Canada, from Halifax to Victoria and the far north, were registered for the sessions, which will include consideration of problems of world-wide concern.

But they will temper their deliberations with many social engagements.

Mrs. George O. Spencer of Moncton, N.B., president of the National Council, will formally open business tomorrow with her report as chairman. Following will be the report of Mrs. Edgar D. Hardy, Ottawa, corresponding secretary.

This evening the government of the province of British Columbia will be host to delegates at a formal reception and Tuesday, May 24, will be celebrated fittingly with an excursion to Victoria, where the visitors will be guests for the day of the Victoria Council of Women.

Wednesday business sessions will be intercepted by the Women's Canadian Club luncheon for the delegates at noon, and in the evening General Victor Odlum will address the only public meeting of the convention, speaking on the subject of radio.

Thursday will see more business done, breaking up at 3 for tea on board the Empress of Canada as guests of the Canadian Pacific Steamships. Friday's social function will be a luncheon at Stanley Park Pavilion, when the delegates will be joint guests of the B.C. Provincial Council of Women and the Park Board. Friday evening it will be the Vancouver Local Council's turn to entertain, which they are doing at a banquet.

Saturday afternoon delegates will journey over to New Westminster to be guests of the Royal City Council of Women, and on Sunday afternoon national officers of the council will hold a reception at First Baptist Church.

The delegates will arrive in Victoria on the afternoon of May 24, and will be driven to the Butchart gardens then on to "Applegarth," the home of Mrs. Snape, formerly "Miraloma," where they will be entertained by Mrs. Snape and Dr. Olga Jardine at high tea.

An appeal is made to the affiliated societies and friends to provide care for the transportation of delegates, and those willing to assist in this way are requested to telephone Mrs. Alfred Carmichael, G 2546, Mrs. A. E. Hopkins, E 6696, or Mrs. J. W. Gibson, E 3418

W.I. Will Tag For Salarium

Funds to repair the wading pool and to provide needed new physiotherapy equipment at the Queen Alexandra Solarium, Mill Bay, will be sought by the Victoria Women's Institute when it stages its annual tag day in aid of the institution on June 4.

Volunteers to assist with the sale of tags are urgently needed, Mrs. W. Peden, chairman of the committee arranging the tag day, said this morning.

Information can be obtained from Mrs. Peden at E 2650.

Induction Will Be Celebrated

Rev. Dr. W. G. Wilson, pastor of First United Church, will celebrate the 35th anniversary of his induction into the ministry next Sunday. The anniversary will be celebrated by special services in the church and reference will also be made to it at a farewell party for Dr. and Mrs. Wilson in a few weeks.

Dr. Wilson recently tendered his resignation to the congregation, and this will become effective in June.

Next Sunday's anniversary sermon will be preached by Rev. J. E. Bell, assistant minister at First United.

Denmark's Idea

Weddings

BARBER—COLLISON

St. John's Church was the scene of a pretty wedding on Wednesday when Miss Gladys M. Collison, only daughter of Mrs. P. Burke, 2648 Blanshard Street, became the bride of Mr. George W. Barber, eldest son of Mr. Fred Barber, 915 Caledonia Avenue. Rev. Canon F. A. P. Chadwick officiated.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her stepfather, wore a dress of sapphire crepe with white accessories and a fox fur. Her corsage bouquet was of roses and gardenias.

Mrs. R. Hollins, the matron of honor, wore a dress of old rose net, with brown accessories and a corsage of gardenias. Mr. Hollins was best man. A reception was held for relatives of the bride and groom at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Burke. Later the young couple entertained their friends at their new home in the Field Apartments.

CONWAY—STANHOPE

St. Alban's Church was decorated with a profusion of flowers on Saturday evening for the wedding of Jean, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Stanhope, Duncan, and Mr. Edward Conway, son of Mrs. A. Conway and the late Mr. Conway. Rev. F. Comley officiated.

The bride, given away by her father, wore an ankle-length dress of white net with large puffed sleeves tapered to the wrists. Her embroidered veil was held to her head with a wreath of orange blossom. Pale pink and white snapdragons, carnations and sweet peas were her bouquet. Mr. William Conway, brother of the groom, was best man. Miss Dorothy Stanhope, the bride's cousin, was bridesmaid in a frock of pale pink sheer with a white bolero and white hat. Mr. Alan Stanhope, brother of the bride, and Mr. Clinton Conway, brother of the groom, were ushers.

Follwing the service a reception was held at the home of the groom's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Harris, 2525 Vancouver Street, where the decorations were made up of flowers in rainbow hues.

After a honeymoon on the mainland Mr. and Mrs. Conway will make their home at Cobble Hill.

CORBETT—WILKINSON

Ursula Estelle, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wilkinson, 2815 Colquitz Avenue, and Mr. Christopher Carlington Corbett, eldest son of Mr. C. Corbett, William Head, and of the late Mrs. Corbett, were united in marriage at a quiet ceremony in the Church of Our Lord, Free Church of England, on Saturday afternoon. Rev. G. H. Scarrett officiated.

The bride was given away by her father. She wore a brown tailored suit, an ice-blue blouse and a large brown hat. Her corsage bouquet was of cream rosebuds and lilies of the valley. Miss Margaret Wilkinson, wearing a powder blue suit with matching accessories and a pale rose blouse, attended her sister. Mr. Wilfred Corbett was best man to his brother.

After a honeymoon in the United States Mr. and Mrs. Corbett will make their home on David Street.

The One Cereal That Supplies Your Body Needs

Discovered by Dr. Robt. G. Jackson thirty years ago, Roman Meal has brought health and vigor to many thousands in many countries because of its beneficial properties. Roman Meal is different from all other cereal foods — different in ingredients, different in results. The living proof of its remarkable qualities is Dr. Jackson himself, a physical wreck at fifty, today an eighty-year-young marvel of glowing health and energy — largely through the aid of Roman Meal.

Here is no ordinary cereal but a scientific combination of the natural health elements found in granulated whole wheat and rye, bran, rice polishings and flax-o-lin. No other cereal contains all these ingredients. Combined in Roman Meal in the correct proportions for building health and resistance to disease, they quickly clear up the cause of constipation and kindred ills, soon rid your blood of poisons. You can cook Roman Meal in three minutes; this is important — for it preserves the vital elements that are destroyed by prolonged cooking.

Start now by eating mineral rich Roman Meal once a day, or oftener, and drinking Kofy-Sub, the deliciously refreshing alkaline beverage rich in blood building iron. You can make many tempting dishes with Roman Meal for the whole family. A short trial will soon convince you of the benefits you will derive from these unique Dr. Jackson products.

For valuable free bulletins on food and health, write Robt. G. Jackson, M.D., 577 Vine Avenue, Toronto.

Liberal Women End Convention at Ottawa With Resolution

OTTAWA (CP)—Inequality of men and women in matters political is "merely theoretical, a condition which it is believed will last as long as women accept it without protest," the National Federal of Liberal Women declared by resolution at the final session Saturday of a two-day convention.

The resolution asked the Dominion Government to name more women senators, to encourage women candidates for the House of Commons and to place more women in more responsible positions on all boards and commissions, particularly those having to do with social legislation.

The 300 women, representative of all parts of Canada, elected Senator Cairine Wilson president of the federation and Mrs. Pierre E. Casgrain first national vice-president. They adopted a new constitution by which triennial meetings will be the rule. The convention concluded Saturday was the first since 1928.

LEGAL INEQUALITIES

A second resolution on women's status declared there is much discrimination against them resulting from law. It asked repeal of all legal inequalities against women. Discrimination in civil service examinations and in the filling of positions was also alleged by resolution and the removal sought.

The convention endorsed the "effort [illegible] Dominion Government to enact a contributory scheme for national unemployment insurance."

Support was given the Health League of Canada in its efforts to have the venereal disease control plan rehabilitated as it existed prior to 1932.

A censorship commission for Canada was favored in another resolution unanimously adopted by the federation. It read:

"This meeting of the National Federation of Liberal Women of Canada approves the stand of the federal government with regard to salacious literature, and recommends that the government set up a censorship commission comprised of men and women to assist in bringing about a more rigorous censorship in Canada."

The May group of the Victoria City Temple Birthday Club, captained by Mrs. G. Holt, entertained in the Temple Social Hall Friday night. A radio broadcast was featured. James Bryant as "Professor Bunkum" conducted a question box in which Mrs. N. Goodwin, Miss I. Lindly, Miss R. Garrett and Mr. R. Holt, Mr. G. A. A. Hebden and C. Joyce, participated. Mr. I. Smith timed the contestants and Miss Y. Prince and A. Horton were the judges. "A Girl Can Be Too Careful," novelty play before a microphone transmitted to the audience by a loud speaker, demonstrated radio technique. This was sponsored by Mrs. G. Deaville. Those taking part were Gladys Phillips, Mrs. M. Jones, Mr. Stephen Brown, Mr. A. Swaluk and Mr. G. A. A. Hebden. Mr. N. Goodwin was the announcer. The Misses E. and B. Jones, accompanied by Mrs. G. Deaville, sang a duet. Mr. Farmer who acted as M.C., also entertained with a vocal solo. Refreshments were served by a committee consisting of Mesdames G. Holt, B. Farmer, I. Smith and Peters, and Misses Y. Prince, A. Townsend and A. Johnson.

Ambassador's Daughters

Charming in their white tulle court gowns, and the centre of interest in the first British court presentations in many years from which Americans from home were barred, were two daughters of Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy, Kathleen, left, and Rosemary, right, shown above with their mother, as she presented them to King George and Queen Elizabeth at Buckingham Palace recently. Only five other American women met Their Majesties, under Ambassador Kennedy's much-discussed prohibition against all but those connected with official life.

BLIND GUESTS AT TEA PARTY

Blind men and women from Victoria and neighboring districts were entertained at an afternoon party on Saturday by the Women's Auxiliary of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind. Mrs. T. A. Rickard, president of the auxiliary, was in charge of the party, which was held in the Shrine Hall.

The assembly stood in silent tribute to the memory of the late Major Harry Watts, for many years an active worker among the blind in the city.

A musical program, with songs by Mrs. Rickard and Mrs. F. G. Aldous and piano solos by Edgar Holloway, preceded a sumptuous tea.

Community singing brought the afternoon to a close. The guests were driven to their homes by members of the auxiliary.

The tea was attended by representatives of the Robert Burns McMicking Chapter, I.O.D.E.; Miss Frame, who has worked for many years as a teacher of the blind in Halifax; Madame Claudet, who conducts singing classes for the blind, and Mrs. Robson, the class accompanist.

HOROSCOPE

"The stars incline, but do not compel."

TUESDAY, MAY 24, 1938

Threatening planetary aspects rule today, according to astrology. There may be much nerve tension, financial anxiety and a tendency to hasty quarrels.

Mars is in a place threatening to dwellers on the earth, and may cause alarming reports to reach the United States. Ill omens are discerned for European pacts.

Labor continues subject to disturbing portents indicative of grave conflicts among workers.

Women today should pursue routine duties. Irritability and impatience may be prevalent in home circles where patience should be exercised.

The stars seem to presage sudden veering of public opinion. Criticism of government policies will be changed by the discovery of hidden motives necessarily kept secret, owing to diplomatic conventions.

The evening is an auspicious time for leaders to address meetings or radio audiences. The launching of an ambitious effort to assure peace is prognosticated.

Fires in cities and manufacturing plants are forecast. Extra care should be maintained to protect buildings from damage or destruction.

The planetary government encourages independence and egotism. The forces that make dictators possible are active in minor ways among persons of all nations.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of varied experiences, among which the young may find quarrels easily precipitated. Much pleasure through the arts may be expected.

Children born on this day probably will be confident and optimistic in nature. These subjects of Gemini are usually clever and successful.

Stephen Girard, banker and philanthropist, was born on this day 1750. Others who have celebrated it as a birthday include H. E. Fosdick, clergyman and writer, 1878; Queen Victoria, British ruler, 1819.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 25

After the early morning hours many obstacles may be encountered by persons engaged in important business or government affairs.

There is a sign read as fomenting secret and perilous plans. Deception and intrigue may affect men who bear heavy responsibilities.

Fear should be cast out of consciousness under this configuration. Americans can accomplish nothing, the seers declare, by borrowing trouble regarding possible conflict with foreign powers.

Good news may be expected under this rule of the planets. Tidings that reassure young and old, personal as well as general predictions of better fortunes, are prognosticated.

Jewelers will profit in the summer through a novel fashion that makes special appeal to the young. Keepsakes of odd design may be much in vogue.

This is a promising configuration for gardens. The cult of beauty in the home will be prominent. As European cities and their priceless art contents vanish there is to be increased achievement in the United States. Artists and sculptors are to command attention.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of difficulties. While financial affairs are fortunate, there may be domestic anxieties.

Children born on this day probably will be imaginative, high-strung and extremely sensitive. Subjects of this sign usually are studious and inclined toward unusual habits of thought.

News of Clubwomen

The monthly meeting of St. Joseph's Alumnae will be held on Wednesday evening in the Nurses' Home.

The Women's Auxiliary of the Imperial Veterans' Association will hold a card party in the Hamley Building, Broughton Street, on Wednesday evening at 8.

The annual meeting of the Diocesan Branch of the Mothers' Union will be held on Thursday afternoon, May 26, at 2.30, in the Memorial Hall. The speaker will be Mrs. Ward Price, Dominion President of the Mothers' Union.

The final military 500 card party of the tournament under the auspices of the Victoria Women's Institute will be held this evening at the hall, 635 Fort Street, commencing at 8.30. The special prizes will be presented at a wind-up card party on Monday, May 30. Refreshments will be served by the ladies and the usual prizes given.

At the last regular meeting of Sir Henry Wilson L.O.L. arrangements were completed for the presentation of Belmont United Church minstrel show to be held on June 9 in the S.O.E. Hall. The next regular meeting has been postponed from Tuesday, May 24, to Friday, May 27, when all members are especially asked to attend.

Mrs. M. Carter was hostess to members and friends at her home, 1017 Pandora Avenue, when a successful sewing bee was held by homemaking chairman Mrs. A. Harrison, under the auspices of the Victoria Chapter No. 25, Women of the Moose. Articles of sewing were distributed to be finished for a sale of work and garden party next month. Refreshments were served by the hostess. The chapter will hold a meeting tonight in K. of P. Hall, 1415 Broad Street, at 7.30. Nomination of officers will take place, followed by a whist drive at 8.30. Supper will be served.

Princess Patricia Lodge, No. 238, Daughters of St. George, met in the K. of C. Hall, Friday night, the vice-president, Mrs. E. Campbell, in the chair. Arrangements were made for the visit to Seattle on June 2. Mrs. E. A. Restell, Mrs. K. Herring and Mrs. S. Wetherall, the committee in charge of the tickets, will be in the K. of C. Hall May 31, between 2 and 4 o'clock, and all members who intend going are asked to be there at that time. Nomination and election of officers took place and the following officers were elected: Worthy president, Mrs. E. Campbell; worthy vice-president, Mrs. E. Duncan; first conductor, Mrs. E. Sladden; second conductor, Mrs. A. Mason; inside guard, Mrs. Molyneaux; outside guard, Mrs. A Spaven; trustees, Mrs. N. Cownden (chairman), Mrs. E. Lees, Mrs. A. Green; auditors, Mrs. J. Miller, Mrs. E Jane and Mrs. J. Reed. A garden party will be held at the home of Mrs. A. Mason in July. Refreshments were served by Mrs. A. Spaver and her committee.

TO GIVE DIPLOMAS

Diplomas and cups will be presented to successful pupils in the music department of St. Ann's Academy at a musicale to be held in the auditorium at 8 tonight. The musicale will give parents an opportunity to hear the standard work achieved by their children.

HE SUFFERED AGONY IN WET WEATHER

Rheumatism Attacked Limbs and Body

He had been bothered with rheumatism for years. The pain in wet weather—to use his own expression—was "indescribable." But all that is gone now—thanks to Kruschen. Read this letter:

"I suffered with rheumatism for years. I dreaded wet weather, for during such periods the pain was continuous and indescribable. To begin with, it was confined to my limbs, but in time I began to suffer as much agony in my body as I did in my limbs. When I began to take Kruschen Salts, I found it did me more good than all the other medicine I had taken put together. Today, I have peace and freedom from pain, even during wet weather, and can heartily recommend Kruschen Salts to anyone who suffers from rheumatism."—N.M.

Rheumatism conditions are often the result of an excess of uric acid in the body. Two of the ingredients in Kruschen Salts have the power of dissolving uric acid crystals. Other ingredients in these Salts assist Nature to expel the dissolved crystals through the natural channels.

Care Urged In Killing Kittens

S.P.C.A. Says Chloroform More Merciful Than Drowning

The humane destruction of newly-born kittens was discussed at the regular monthly meeting of the committee of the Victoria S.P.C.A. It was reported that many people drown their kittens as soon as they are born, a practice which causes suffering as the animals never having used their lungs for the purpose of breathing, may live for an hour or two under water. The use of chloroform is advised, though care should be taken, after administering it, to ascertain whether life is quite extinct.

It was reported that boys in Beacon Hill Park are stoning water fowl; the S.P.C.A. inspector will co-operate with the parks board in an effort to abate this nuisance.

The tag day receipts were slightly lower than those of recent years due to circumstances over which the committee had no control, however, those helping gave loyal service and the committee in charge extends thanks to all those taking part in the tag as well as to the general public.

It is felt that branches of the S.P.C.A. are needed in other parts of the Island and an effort will be made to organize an Up-Island district. The branch formed in September, 1935, at Duncan is doing good work in the Cowichan district.

The inspector reports that green feed is abundant and there is promise of a bountiful crop of hay.

With the summer weather here care should be taken to keep canaries out of the full glare of the sun at midday, opportunity should be given them to seek shade if desired, the society points out.

The inspector pointed out that 36 cases had been attended and 361 animals and birds inspected during the month.

Cases of cruelty or neglect should be reported to the inspector, G. A. Allen, phone Empire 8351 or to A. R. Sherwood, secretary-treasurer, phone Empire 7555 or to the office 304 Jones Block, 715 Fort Street.

Artillerymen Gather May 28

At a meeting of the executive last night, arrangements were completed for the annual reunion of the 15th Brigade Canadian Field Artillery Association on Saturday night, May 28, in Spencer's dining-room. The dinner will start at 7.

It is expected that 100 former members of the 58th, 51st, 60th, 61st and 62nd batteries and the divisional ammunition colmn will attend but other artillerymen who would like to enjoy the gathering are invited to be present, provided they communicate with Ralph Cruickshanks at E 8612 or G 5182.

Ted King, president of the association, [illegible] program is being prepared.

MINING ROAD GRANTS MADE

Premier Pattullo announced Saturday the provincial government has been advised Ottawa will contribute $240,000 this year to a program of mining road construction in British Columbia.

This sum will be matched by $120,000 from the province, making a total program of $360,000, the same as last year.

The advice was received from Hon. T. A. Crerar, Minister of Mines and Resources, at Ottawa.

While no direct word had been received today it was understood Ottawa has also approved an increase in the vote for forestry and mine training camps announced earlier this week. The supplementary votes tabled in the House of Commons yesterday showed an increase from $1,000,000 to $2,250,000 in the allotment for youth training, out of which these camps are financed.

The Premier said the province was still unadvised whether Ottawa would agree to its application for Dominion grants to a joint construction program on main highways.

Officers of St. Mary's A.Y.P.A. have been elected as follows: President, Norman Williams; vice-president, Freddy Holtum; secretary, Mary Bell; corresponding secretary, Audrey Bickford, and treasurer, Philip Salmon. Final arrangements for the annual country fair were made to take place Wednesday, June 1, from 3 to 9. Many attractions will be provided.

Boston Bees In Mad Dash

Whip Chicago Cubs 2 to 1 For Seventh Straight Baseball Victory

If the durable arms of the veteran flingers hold out, Boston Bees are going to give the Red Sox a run, for their customers in one of the best baseball cities in the big leagues. Likewise they're going to give a lot of other National League clubs an argument about the baseball pennant situation.

It's strange enough to see both Boston clubs up there in third place in their respective leagues, but the Bees' current winning streak bids fair to become a real sensation, overshadowing various other events of importance that took place yesterday on one of the busiest Sundays of the season.

The Bees conquered Chicago's Cubs 2 to 1 in an 11-inning mound duel between Myll Shoffner, this year's 31-year-old "Rookie," and Clay Bryant. They ran their latest winning streak to seven straight, equally their best string since they ceased being the Braves two years ago, they cut Chicago's second-place margin to one game, and they turned in their fourth triumph in six-extra-inning games this season.

The Bees had to share headlines with such matters as the biggest turnout of fans since the opening day, a total of 184,887, the New York Giants' hitting comeback, minor injuries to Cleveland's Bob Feller and New York Yankees' "Iron Horse" Lou Gehrig, old Ted Lyons' 200th American League mound victory and Rudy York's game-winning homer with the bases full.

GOT WINNING HIT

Shoffner managed to earn Boston the biggest type, however, when he not only pitched seven-hit ball, but singled home the winning run in the 11th innings.

The biggest crowd of the season and the two injuries turned up in Cleveland, where 62,440 saw the Indians increase their American League lead by trouncing the Yankees 8 to 3. Feller, after pitching one-hit ball for three innings, retired when he began to feel twinges in the back muscles he strained two weeks ago. Gehrig pulled a Charley Horse in the sixth and retired, but teammates expected him to start in consecutive game No. 1,993 today.

The Giants, who had scored one run in three previous games, whanged away at three Pittsburgh pitchers to beat the Pirates 18 to 2. Their 15-hit assault included homers by Harry Danning with the corners crammed and by Jo-Jo Moore with two aboard.

York's all-important homer was made in Detroit's first inning against the Red Sox and enabled the Tigers to win 4 to 3 although held to six hits by Jack Wilson. Lyons in his 15th year with Chicago White Sox, pitched wisely to give the Sox a 9 to 2 triumph over Washington, allowing nine hits and pulling himself out of several bad spots.

The day's outstanding mound performances were seen in Philadelphia, where Pete Sivess of the Phils and Bill McGee of St. Louis Cardinals matched five-hitters. Philadelphia won 2 to 1 as all the scoring came in the last inning.

Cincinnati Reds, aided by Ival Goodman's 10th homer of the season, bowled over Brooklyn 8 to 3 and Philadelphia Athletics turned back St. Louis Browns 8 to 5 in 10 minutes when Buck Newson, who hurled a full game Saturday, couldn't hold the A's in a last-inning relief role.

GENE TUNNEY was talking recently about the forthcoming heavyweight championship fight between Joe Louis and Max Schmeling. The former champion has not picked Schmeling, as you have repeatedly read. He wants to see both in training before making a selection.

"Schmeling has the advantage of having once knocked out Louis," says Tunney. "Max also has the immeasurability of spiritual inspiration. He feels himself to be the representative of a new world-wide racial movement.

"But all this can be erased with a single punch.

"And my advice to Louis is to unload his heavy guns early.

"The trouble with Louis is that he tries to think.

"They tell you that Jack Blackburn is a big help to the negro. He undoubtedly is . . . in training.

"But if I had Louis, I'd keep Blackburn out of his corner.

"Blackburn reminds me of Ty Cobb trying to run the Detroit baseball club.

"Cobb expected every ball player to be able to do the things he did. He sent them out with that order, and they fell short.

"Blackburn is trying to make his 'Chappie' fight as he fought. Now, 'Chappie' may be just as good a fighter as Blackburn was, but 'Chappie' hasn't the keen fighting brain of a Blackburn, and when he stops to think his hands stop with his brain.

"I know this much about Joe Louis for sure. If he fights 30 years, he'll never know how to behave on the floor.

"That's the one thing in my boxing career of which I'm proud. I had never been knocked down . . . not even in a gymnasium . . . when Jack Dempsey clipped me in Chicago. Yet I instinctively knew what to do. I realize that I must have looked bad running away from Dempsey, but it was the only way out, and I had enough good sense to take it."

Tunney likes to recall the California sports writer who before the first Dempsey fight asked him with what he expected to whip Dempsey.

"With the spirit of the United States Marines," said Tunney.

The writer sought out Dempsey, and told him what the upstart had said.

"What's the spirit of the United States Marines?" asked the Man Mauler.

The writer, who happened to be a former marine, told him, as best he could, just what semper fidelis meant.

"Well, would you trade that for my left hook?" asked Dempsey.

But the writer took Tunney literally, and was one of a handful who picked him to beat Jack in Philadelphia.

Tunney can't see how Henry Armstrong can spot Barney Ross weight May 26.

"Ross is a straight puncher. Armstrong is a swinger," he explains.

"A straight line is the shortest point, etc.

"After all, it's elemental."

Vancouver Soccer Games One-sided

VANCOUVER — An extended soccer schedule here Saturday saw New Westminster Royals, Saint Saviours and Saint Andrews triumph in three second round Province Cup games and Excelsiors win the Vancouver and District League championship in a sudden-death final with Fraser Cafe.

Royals handed Vancouver Maccabees an 8 to 4 beating, Saint Andrews defeated Kerrisdale 3 to 1 and Saint Saviours took the measure of Service Taxi 2 to 0 in three Province Cup tussles.

Excelsiors downed Fraser Cafe of New Westminster, 2 to 0, in the sudden-death final for the Imperial Cup, representing the championship of the Vancouver and District First Division League.

YELLOWS WIN POLO MATCH

Defeat Reds 4 to 1 Through Goals Scored By Edgelow and Carley

Coach Capt. Rivers Rebbit gave his teams a shaking up yesterday and the result was the tastest and most exciting polo seen this year on the Foul Bay Road grounds. The match was in the nature of a prep game for the series with the Somenos Outlaws Polo Club from Duncan next week-end. The Yellows defeated the Reds by the score of 4 to 1.

Tyson opened the scoring in the first few minutes with a spectacular goal when he met Edgelow's hit with a hard drive from a difficult angle. The Reds enjoyed the advantage until midway through the second chukker when Edgelow scored from close in on Sturdy's pass. The Yellows went ahead in the third chukker when Carley scored on a solo effort to make the count 2 to 1. The fourth chukker was fast with neither side being able to put across a goal. The fifth was wide open with the Yellows taking command of the play. Edgelow put his team another goal up when he scored on a play in which the Yellows carried the ball the full length of the field. Shortly after, Hazlewood of the Reds, made a sensational save of Edgelow's 40 yard penalty shot awarded when Wilson crossed. Carley finished the scoring when he tallied on a neat passing play.

Teams follow:

Reds—Tyson (Capt.), Boorman, Hazlewood, Wilson and McCallum.

Yellows—Harris, Sturdy, Carley, Edgelow (Capt.) and Findlay.

Oak Bay Team Defeats Comox

Galento Puts Mann Away

GOOD CATCHES IN COWICHAN

Fine Baskets of Trout Yesterday; Dr. H. Clarke Gets 19-pound Salmon

Bright spring weather attracted many to fishing spots yesterday, but the spotlight was taken by Cowichan River, where a number of fine baskets of trout were taken. At Brentwood the majority of anglers were unsuccessful, while the lower end of Shawnigan Lake produced some fair catches.

Roger Monteith and a companion reeled in 20 beautiful trout on the fly between the railway bridge and greens on the Cowichan flow. They got most of their catches late in the evening. Herbert Hammond and Cecil Gore were another successful pair of fly fishermen. They landed a dozen, the largest tipping the scales to three pounds. Arthur Pitts, another well-known fly fisherman, caught 10 around midday below the railway bridge and around the big pool.

Scotty McPherson and Binks Rainsford, fishing in Kelvon Creek, which flows into the Cowichan River, had a gala day fishing with worms. They got 22 trout.

The best salmon caught yesterday at Brentwood was reeled in by Dr. Hugh Clarke. It was a 19 pounder.

Cecil Heaton reeled in a number of trout at Shawnigan Lake, but reported that fishing on the whole was a bit spotty.

Canadian Is Victor By 5 and 3

Goodman, Ward, Ouimet, Billows and Kocsis, U.S. Stars, All Advance

TROON, Scotland (CP)—Sandy Somerville carried Canada's challenge for the British amateur golf championship successfully through the first round today by defeating Geoffrey Illingworth of Woking, England, 5 and 3, in a driving rain.

The many-times Canadian titleholder from London, Ont., defied the wild Scottish weather in a rubber suit and beat down Illingworth's resistance with a steady iron play.

He snuffed out the match with a five on the 443-yard 15th. He gained his margin at the turn by taking the fifth and sixth while Illingworth explored the sand and three-putted. He picked up another at the 11th and a bogey five was good enough for the 13th.

The match started uncertainly. On the first hole Illingworth sliced a shot to the rough and conceded. From the next tee, Somerville hooked into a yawning bunker and finally conceded, to square the match.

After the lone Canadian in the big field had taken the fifth and sixth, both got birdies on the 456-yard ninth. Sandy started back with four straight par fours. The Englishman drove into whins—or goose patches—on the 13th and 15th.

Their cards follow:
Par, out 4 4 4 4 3 5 4 3 5—36
Somerville 3 x 5 4 3 5 4 4 4
Illingworth x 4 5 4 4 6 4 4 4
Par, in 4 4 4 4 3 5 4 3 4—35—71
Somerville 4 4 4 5 3 5
Illingsworth 4 5 4 6 3 6

First of the favorites to have a tough match, Gordon Peters, top-ranking Scottish star and British Walker Cupper, squandered a two-hole lead and had to sink a 10-footer for a birdie on the 18th to beat A. S. Anderson, 1 up.

K. B. Scott beat A. H. Bloomer 2 and 1, while M. J. Ryan of Australia beat P. B. Lucas, former British Walker Cupper, 2 up.

A. E. L. Mackenzie-Grieve of England won on the 20th hole from Bobby Dunkelberger of the United States.

The second American to go out was Arthur V. Rogers of Winchester, Mass., who lost to H. N. M. Fogg, 3 and 2. A second-year student of Oxford, playing from a French club, Rogers got away to a bad start and struggled without success the rest of the way.

OUIMET WINS

Veteran Francis Ouimet of Boston, captain of the United States Walker Cup team, fought against a rebellious putter to scramble home and beat P. J. Urlwin-Smith 1 up.

Charles (Chuck) Kocsis, Walker Cupper from Detroit, played in top form to gain a 7 and 5 triumph over R. W. Crummack.

Kocsis—
Out 4 4 4 5 3 5 4 3 4—36
Crummack—
Out 5 4 4 5 4 6 4 4 4—40
Kocsis—In 5 4 4 4

Charles S. Munson of Fairfield, Conn., was turned back by Albert W. Briscoe, 6 and 5.

The U.S. amateur champion, Johnny Goodman of Omaha, and Marvin (Bud) Ward of Olympia, Wash., joined their Walker Cup teammates in the second round. Goodman routed Robert Montgomerie, 7 and 5, while Ward turned back Israel Sidebottom, 5 and 3.

Goodman, given a good chance to take the coveted title, made a fine 60-foot putt to the lip of the cup to win the ninth. He equalled Somerville's feat in shooting par fours on the first hour holes of the journey home.

Goodman—

Montgomerie—

Ray Billows, another Walker Cupper from Poughkeepsie, N.Y., eliminated Raymond Quilter, 3 and 2, and will play Goodman in the second round. When they met in the final round of the 1937 United States amateur at Portland, Ore., Goodman won, 2 up in 36 holes.

Victoria West In Cup Football Win

Defeat Victoria City 3 to 2 in Jackson Cup Final; Penalty Decides Match

Soccer fans saw Victoria's two leading clubs battle Saturday under the blazing sun at the Athletic Park when Esquimalt and Victoria West met to decide possession of the prized Jackson Cup. A penalty kick late in the last half gave the Wests the odd goal in five and the silverware.

It was a close game all the way and both teams put everything they had into the fight. Twice the boys from the dockyard village went into the lead only to have the greenshirts draw even again.

When the Wests captured the lead by scoring the fifth goal Esquimalt staged a great closing offensive in an attempt to even up, and with the closing whistle just seconds away undoubtedly would have accomplished it had it not been for a mistake by Earle Barnswell. George Payne, Esquimalt left winger, let drive from his wing with a scorching shot that had the goalie beat a mile and was headed straight for the net. But centre-forward Barnswell dashed in to place Payne's sure-shot into the hemp with his boot, but, instead, he kicked it high over the bar. He was thanked heartily by goalie Tom Restell for making that save.

The dockers opened up on the attack and kept the heat on practically all through the first 45 minutes but failed badly in front of goal. After 40 minutes Esquimalt gained the lead when Smith's perfect flagkick was headed in to the hemp by Gordy Bell.

The Wests were busy on the defence for a large part of the half but managed attacks periodically, and three minutes after Esquimalt had notched a marker the greenshirts got off on one of their periodicals to tie up the score. This play originated from a throw-in near the Esquimalt goal area, Robinson taking possession and passing to Roy Okell who in turn handed it on to John Watt, and the latter scored.

SECOND HALF

In the second half Jack O'Connor replaced Chalmers in the Esquimalt net, and the youngster turned in a smart performance.

Both goalies had some narrow escapes, O'Connor the majority, as play swung end to end in the early exchanges of the second half, but it was Esquimalt who found the net first, Smith slipping down the left lane to fire a low shot at Restall, which sneaked in between the goalkeeper and the post. At this point the Wests got away on their major offensive of the match and at the 20-minute mark deadlocked the score 2 to 2. O'Connor missed Roy Okell's shot that sailed across the goalmouth and Robinson converted the cross. At the 39-minute mark the winning goal was scored, Jack Okell booting in a penalty kick given for hands against Cooper, Esquimalt back. Esquimalt returned to the attack but were unable to make the grade.

Swan refereed.

Teams follow:

Victoria West — T. Restell, J. Okell, Bell, Lorandini, Barnes, C. Restell, R. Okell, Sage, Watt, Morgan, Robinson and Sweeney.

Esquimalt — O'Connor, Watt, Cooper, Holt, Hay, McBay, Smith, Bell, Barnswell, Sage, Payne and English.

Swede Linskog In Daring Race Win

Seattle Driver Thrills Big Crowd at Langford Speedway

A sandy-haired, freckled-faced young chap from Seattle by the name of Swede Londskog, who can skid turns and roar down the straightaways like a veteran, gave nearly 2,000 racing fans all the thrills they wanted Saturday night at the Langford speedway, to win the 20-lap main event, feature of the second auto racing meet of the season.

Saturday's meet was marred by two accidents. Buddy Green, Victoria driver, was badly injured when he turned over in front of the grandstand on the third lap of the main event, while Lou McMurtry, Seattle, crashed into a light pole in one of the earlier heats.

LINDSKOG WINNER

Lindskog driving a car owned by Frank Rentz, Seattle, gave a daring and expert exhibition of driving in copping off first honors in the final 17 laps of the feature event. Lindskog took the lead at the start and held that position for the remainder of the race with Tony West in chuck Widwick's Salem Oregon car keeping on his tail to finish second. Jack Spaulding, Seattle, finished third and Bert Bloomgren, Seattle, fourth.

Bert Sutton, local favorite, driving a car owned jointly between Sutton and Jack Smith, finished fifth to collect the cup for the first-local driver to finish in the main event. Sutton copped these honors two weeks ago. Bob Wensley and Corky Thomas failed to finish, dropping out after the last 17 laps, were started Jimmy Symes of Seattle and Jimmy Laird of Victoria were the last two to cross the line.

Jack Spaulding, driving a car owned by Wayne Gaffray of Yakima, equalled the track record of 19 1-5 seconds set by Wes Moore of Seattle at the last meet.

The three next fastest trials were Swede Lindskog, 19 2-5 seconds, and Bert Sutton and Tony West at 19 3-5 seconds apiece. These four took part in the first-heat race of 10 laps.

In this race Jack Spaulding and Swede Lindskog provided plenty of thrills with Spaulding coming out ahead by about a length and a half. The time was 3 minutes 18 3-5 seconds.

The helmet dash between Spaulding, Sutton and Lindskog had the crowd up on its feet. Spaulding once more finished first but with only about three feet to spare. The time for this five-lap race was 1 minute, 38 2-5 seconds. In the first meet the same race went 2 minutes 10 3-8 seconds.

McMURTRY HITS POLE

In the third heat race, Lou McMurtry of Seattle went into a spin on the far side of the track and struck one of the light standards which resulted in painful injuries to his left leg and ankle. He was taken to the hospital for observation.

Johnny Symes was victorious in this event, with Jimmy Laird finishing close behind. The time was 3 minutes, 37 seconds.

Fred "Tarzan" Carson finished first in the fourth-heat race when Corky Thomas conked out and Bob Wensley lost a wheel. It was the first race for Carson.

In the one-and-a-half litre car event, Lou Michelin came out first over Hugh Aylmer with Bert Mitchell of Nanaimo third.

KING'S PLATE WINNER FAST

Bunty Lawless One-fifth of Second Off Record in Victory Saturday

TORONTO—Name of a gallant colt, Bunty Lawless, branded the best since Inferno, was engraved today in Canadian turf history—winner of the 79th running of the King's Plate.

Before a crowd of 26,000, greatest ever to view the historic race, Bunty Lawless galloped to a handy mile-and-a-furlong victory Saturday at picturesque Woodbine Park. He covered the distance in 1.54 2-5, one-fifth of a second off the plate record set by Horometer in 1934.

The undersized colt rewarded owner Willie Morrissey's confidence by a length-and-a-half triumph over Mona Bell, carrying the colors of the Casgrave Stable of Toronto. Cabin Gal, owned by Harry Giddings of Oakville, was third, four lengths further in the rear. Grand Dame, owned by G. M. Hendrie of Hamilton, was fourth and H. C. Hatch's Caracole fifth.

NEVER IN DOUBT

Victory for the son of Ladder-Mintwina was never in doubt after the field of 14 rounded the turn to the stretch drive. Jockey Jackie Bailey rated Bunty Lawless behind the sizzling pace set by Mona Bell and then made his winning bid at the home turn.

Lord Tweedsmuir, Governor-General, presented Morrissey with 50 guineas, donated by the King. In addition, Morrissey drew $6,780 first prize. The total purse, after nomination and starting fees had been added, was $9,780.

Morrissey's total winnings, including the prize money and numerous side bets, were estimated as high as $20,000. He won $4,000 from a syndicate backing Hatch's Suffern in a horse-for-horse wager.

Cabin Gal finished with the greatest closing rush. She held seventh place through the back stretch and began to pick up under the urging of Tony Pascuma. But despite a great stretch drive was unable to menace the leaders.

Bunty Lawless paid $7.95 to win, $5.95 to place and $4.20 to show. Mona Bell returned $19.30 for a $2 place ticket and $10.65 for show. Cabin Gal paid $7.15.

G. WENMAN IS STAR BATSMAN

Puts on 92 Not Out as Incogs Defeat Five C's at Cricket

Victories in friendly cricket matches played Saturday afternoon were registered by Incogs, Albions, University School, Shawnigan Lake School and Brentwood College Colts.

The fine batting of Godfrey Wenman sparked Incogs to a 174 to 96 victory over Five C's at Beacon Hill Park. Wenman put on 92, not out, when he hit the offerings of opposing bowlers all over the field. His score included a half dozen sixes and six fours. Forty-two runs were put on by Griffin, Five C's batsman, which included four sixes and three fours. Wenman also bowled effectively, finishing up with the splendid analysis of four wickets for 8 runs.

Albions defeated the Cowichan side 142 to 51 at Cowichan. Five of the winning side's batsmen put on more than 20 runs, and E. G. Robbins, Albions bowler, took three wickets for 3 runs.

The 53 runs put on by D. C. Newton proved to be useful for the Shawnigan Lake School eleven, which defeated Victoria 119 to 78, on their home grounds. At Brentwood College the University School side and the Collegians came out even in two inter-school matches. The visiting senior eleven defeated Brentwood 89 to 1, but the College Colts reversed the decision in their match when they registered a 48 to 37 triumph.

ENGLISH TEAM IN CLOSE WIN

WINNIPEG—Islington Corinthians, English amateur soccer team, were extended here Saturday night by a select Manitoba eleven. Corinthians were forced to come from behind to eke out a 2 to 1 win.

The game attracted a crowd of 2,500. Corinthians play Fort William all-stars at Fort William tonight. They sail for home May 28.

BRITISH TEAM NEAR DEFEAT

Face Elimination From Davis Cup Tennis; Germany Wins Over Norway

Great Britain's young Davis Cup squad was on the verge of elimination from the international tennis event Sunday as rain halted the second round European zone series between Britain and Jugoslavia at Zagreb.

Germany, bringing out a fresh threat, and France and Sweden entered the round of eight in the zone, leaving two series to be completed in the second round.

Jugoslavia led Britain 2 to 0 in matches and had a lead in the doubles. Ferenc Puncec defeated R. A. Shayes, Britain, in the second singles match Sunday 6-4, 4-6, 6-2, 6-4. Rain halted the doubles between Puncec and Demeter Mitic for Jugoslavia and D. W. Butler and L. W. Wilde with the score 7-5, 6-3, 1-3 for Jugoslavia.

There appeared little hope that Britain, holder of the cup until last year, and now without her great pair of Fred Perry and H. W. (Bunny) Austin, would get past Jugoslavia when play was resumed today.

The German team, with the Austrian Georg von Metaxa as its leading player, routed Norway 4-1. France gained its third straight victory over Monaco, winning the doubles, and clinched the series while Sweden trounced Switzerland 4-1.

Previously Belgium, India and Hungary reached the third round, Belgium by defeating Greece; India and Hungary by default of Austria and New Zealand.

The regular supper dance at the Empress Hotel was transferred to the Tudor Grill on Saturday night, with a good attendance, making it a merry occasion. Swing hits played by the Empress Orchestra, under the direction of Maestro Billy Tickle, included "So Lovely," "Let Me Whisper" and "This Is My Night to Dream," this last from the motion picture, "Doctor Rhythm." The Crystal Ballroom was the scene of the ball given for and by the United Commercial Travelers of America, who have been in convention 300 to 400 strong at the Empress Hotel.

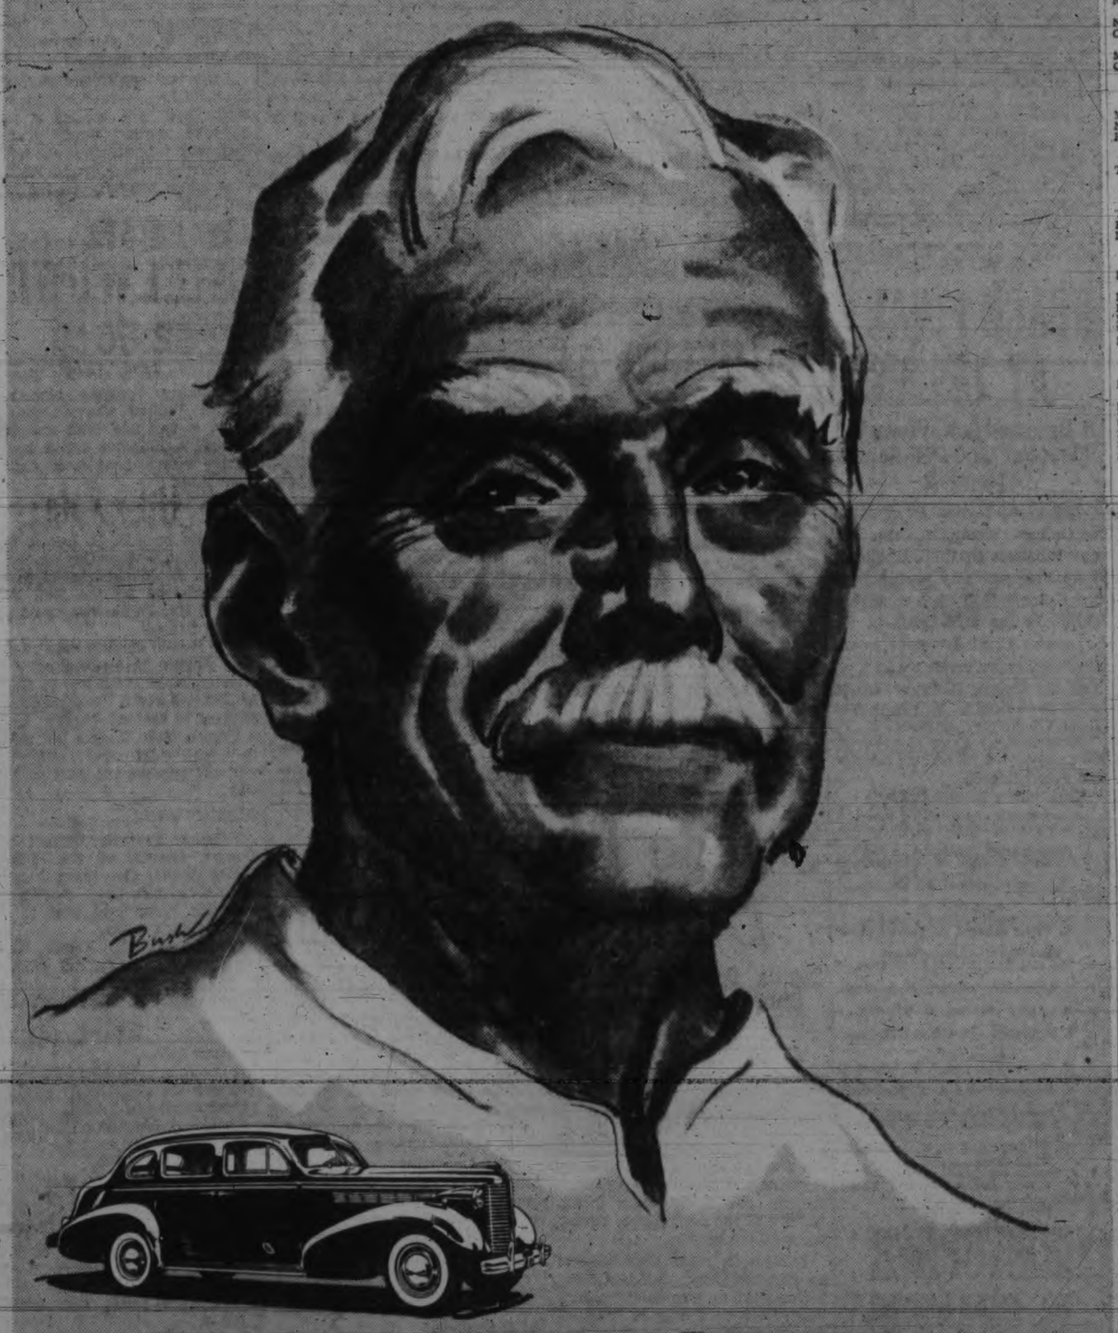
OLD CRAFTSMEN NEVER DIE



McLAUGHLIN-BUICK

ALONG McLaughlin-Buick assembly lines today there still lives the spirit of the first McLaughlin craftsmen. McLaughlin-Buick is proud to trace its history back to the carriage-building days of thirty years ago—and to demonstrate by its product that honest devotion to high standards of craftsmanship has continued into the motor car era.

This pride of craft still guides and inspires the men who build McLaughlin-Buick cars today. To the discriminating eye the proof is discernible in the flawless lines of their graceful beauty... in the superb tailoring of their rich interiors... in the engineering leadership so plainly exemplified this year by the Dynaflash Engine and Torque-Free Springing.

If you value the finer things in motoring and living, see and drive the 1938 McLaughlin-Buick ... the Most Advanced Car in the World.

Veterans Attend Memorial Dinner

Imperial Comrades Honor Queen Victoria's Memory With Banquet

A large number of members of the Imperial Comrades' Association gathered in Spencer's dining-room Saturday night for the first Queen Victoria memorial dinner held by that organization.

Commander C. T. Beard, R.N., in responding to the toast to the navy, said that contrary to popular belief, the fortifications at Esquimalt were not the defences of Canada, but a base from which the navy could operate in time of war. J. W. Tharratt proposed the toast.

Col. H. C. Greer, O.C., R.C.A.S.C., replied to the toast to the army which was proposed by B. F. Sced.

The toast to the City of Victoria proposed by C. W. Kelly, chairman, was responded to by Alderman B. J. Gadsden. He brought regrets from Mayor Andrew McGavin, who was unable to attend. Commander Beard proposed the toast to the association, which was replied to by the chairman.

Mrs. J. Tharratt proposed the toast to the ladies, and Mrs. A. Manson responded. A toast to the King was proposed by the chairman.

The following artists provided the entertainment for the evening: J. McGrath and G. Patrick, monologues, Mrs. B. Clarke, P. Edmunds and Mrs. Crisford, songs. B. Turner was the accompanist for community singing.

W. H. Biggar, honorary secretary of the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities, has forwarded to the city a survey of unemployment as it affects the residential city, compiled by the city of Verdun, Quebec.

Forecast Fair Day Tomorrow

Victoria should have fair weather for its May 24 festivities tomorrow forenoon, but the skies will probably become cloudy in the later afternoon, W. A. Thorn of the Gonzales Observatory stated today.

"It should not be a bad day," Mr. Thorn remarked. Citizens could look for clear skies in the morning, he said, with the weather changing slightly in the afternoon. It would probably be not quite as fair as today, he added.

A recommendation will go forward from the finance committee to the City Council to transfer R. Cannon from the waterworks department to the City Hall switchboard. The committee, at its meeting today, also decided to recommend payment of $150 to the Victoria School Sports Association for the school sports today. The committee tabled a request for special hours at the City Hall during the summer months. The matter had been tabled at three council meetings prior to being sent to the finance committee for consideration.

The provincial government today reserved 67 acres near Prince George for use by that city as an airport site.

Two Thousand Pupils Honor Queen's Memory

Tribute to the memory of Queen Victoria was paid by over 2,000 Victoria and district school children in a colorful ceremony on the front steps and grounds of the Parliament Buildings this morning. The annual commemorative service was taken part in by representative groups from all Victoria, Esquimalt and Oak Bay grade schools and the Junior High School.

A hot morning May sun graced the occasion as school cadets, boy scouts, girl guides, sea scouts, cubs, I.O.D.E. standard bearers and the host of pupils played their collective part in the service.

The strains of "O Canada" drifted across the green lawns of the Legislative Buildings and out over the slightly-rippling waters of James Bay as 1,000 children lifted their voices in the opening selection under the direction of W. H. Muncy. Dr. W. G. Wilson led the prayer and the children sang two verses of "O God Our Help in Ages Past."

Headed by the I.O.D.E. standard bearers the younger children paraded between two lines of cadets to lay floral offerings at the base of Queen Victoria's monument. The singing of God Save the King concluded the service and the children marched back to their respective schools to be dismissed.

George H. Green's junior boys' band was in attendence. The cadets were in charge of Major A. C. Hinton. W. H. Wilson was marshal of the children and Miss A. M. Paterson was in charge of the flower girls.

YOUTH INJURES SPINE IN DIVE

Ivan Waring, 18, in Jubilee Hospital After Elk Lake Accident

Ivan Waring, 18, Royal Oak, suffered a severe spinal injury which is now under X-ray examination by medical authorities, when diving at Elk Lake, last Friday.

The youth is in the Jubilee Hospital, where he was taken by Charles Cunningham, of Elk Lake, after hurting himself while in swimming in the early hours of the evening.

According to Saanich police, who were not notified of the accident until later in the evening, young Waring was diving from a diving platform when he struck a submerged snag.

He came out of the water and walked up to Mr. Cunningham's store, located on the lake and sat down for a while. He complained of dizziness and was later taken to hospital by Mr. Cunningham.

Following preliminary examination by Dr. R. C. Newby it was disclosed he had suffered a spinal injury.

Victorians Get Teacher Awards

Seven Successful in U.B.C. Training Courses

Seven Victorians were successful in teacher training courses at the University of British Columbia in the 1937-38 term, according to results announced today by Hon. G. M. Weir, Minister of Education.

Successful teachers are entitled to an interim academic teacher's certificate, entitling the holder to teach in an elementary, junior high or high school in the province.

In class two, with a percentage between 65 and 89, were Arthur R. B. Bellis, Anna P. Clarke, W. Gordon Fields, Evelyn D. Prisk and Eleanor K. Smith.

Passing with between 50 and 65 per cent were Joseph J. Andrews and Muriel W. Chave.

The minister announced the names of 65 successful candidates in all, and two who were granted supplementals.

Costs of constructing a boulevard on both sides of Quadra Street between Hillside and Pandora Avenues would be over $500 and the annual maintenance would be $165, W. H. Warren, city parks superintendent, reported today. The report was the answer to an inquiry made by Alderman John A. Worthington.

By-election Lead Placed at 135

D. W. Strachan, Liberal, won the Dewdney seat in last Friday's by-election by 135 votes over W. A. Jones, Conservative, according to complete returns received by the Provincial Secretary's office.

The final vote, including absentee ballots, was: Strachan 2,060, Jones 1,925, Miss Mildred Osterhout, C.C.F., 1,663.

These figures represented gains in voting strength over the June 1 general election as follows: Liberal 442, Conservative 55, C.C.F. 389.

Minister Goes East For Roads

MacPherson to Urge Ottawa Continue Joint Works in British Columbia

Continuation of federal grants for a joint Dominion-provincial road construction scheme in British Columbia will be sought by Hon. F. M. MacPherson, B.C. Minister of Public Works, who leaves here tomorrow morning for Ottawa.

The minister will argue British Columbia's case with the federal authorities for carrying on of the road plan he laid down three years ago, which has as its objective the modernizing and surfacing of the main trunk roads of the province.

In the last two years $2,500,000 worth of work has been done in rebuilding main roads up to modern standards. Each government put up half the cost. The province supplemented this work by doing the surfacing itself.

In the new Ottawa works plans it has been intimated that federal grants for road construction will be discontinued and that Ottawa will do certain works on its own. Mr. MacPherson plans to point out that in British Columbia his road program is unfinished and that with an increasing tourist business demanding better facilities a suspension at this time is poor business.

Municipal Meeting With Cabinet Off

A meeting between the provincial cabinet and the Union of B.C. Municipalities and Fraser Valley Reeves' Association arranged for Thursday to discuss the question of provincial grants toward relief for unemployables was postponed today owing to Premier Pattullo's departure for the east. The interview will be held on the Premier's return, it was stated.

VICTORIANS AT PACIFIC TALKS

Four of Five Local Delegates Return From Hood Canal Meeting

Four or five Victoria delegates are back here today after taking part in a joint meeting of the Institute of Pacific Relations and the Canadian Institute of International Affairs at Alderbrook Inn on the Hood Canal, Washington.

The local delegates were Dr. H. M. Cassidy, H. G. Wyatt, R. M. Burns, J. Rattan and Major Cuthbert Holmes. Mrs. Cassidy and Mrs. Wyatt accompanied their husbands on the trip.

Dr. and Mrs. Cassidy went from Alderbrook to Olympia on a business trip to the Washington state capital.

The war in China was the main topic of discussion at the conference, which was held Friday, Saturday and Sunday with some 60 delegates taking part. The highlight was a speech by the editor of the magazine Pacific Relations, who declared that ultimate Chinese victory in the war was a foregone conclusion.

The international relations of Canada and the United States in the matter of halibut and salmon fishing were also discussed and praise was given to the work of the joint commissions controlling the two fisheries.

LEAVES FOR OTTAWA

Captain Elmore Philpott, M.C., has left for Ottawa to represent Victoria at the conference of the Canadian Institute of International Relations. While in the east he will address several public meetings on the world outlook. He will return to Victoria in time to preside at the June 24 meeting to be addressed by the Rt. Hon. Margaret Bondfield from London, Eng.

Teachers Will Discuss Wages

Victoria High School teachers will send delegates to meet the school board at its meeting on Monday next week to make representations over the revised salary schedules, it was learned at the board office today.

What form their discussions would take was not known, but protests over the charges were expected from the teachers.

Under the new listings, maximum salaries for women at the High School are reduced from $2,805 under the existing schedule to $2,400. Those for men are lowered from a maximum of $3,005 to $2,800.

Mrs. Mary Hogle died Friday morning at 508 Dallas Road. She was aged 64. Born in Ontario, she had lived in Victoria for the last four years. She is survived by a brother, a sister and a niece in Ontario. Her body has been sent to Napanee, Ont., for the funeral service and burial. S. J. Curry and Son had charge of the arrangements here.

LESLIE A. PAGE

The funeral of Leslie A. Page was held from the Thomson Funeral Home Saturday afternoon, with Rev. Canon H. W. G. Stocken officiating. The hymns sung were "Abide With Me" and "Jesus, Lover of My Soul." The coffin was covered with a wealth of flowers. The body was taken to Royal Oak Crematorium for cremation. The pallbearers were F. J. Day, P. E. Taylor, F. Moules, F. King, W. Dalrymple and R. Huddleston.

BEATRICE M. BEECH

Beatrice Martha Beech died in St. Joseph's Hospital on Saturday, aged 47. Born in Halifax, she had lived here for 19 years. She leaves her husband, Edwin F. Beech; two sons, Jack and Geoffrey, and a daughter, Mona, at the family home at 863 Phoenix Street, Esquimalt; her mother, sister and one brother in Halifax, and a brother at Sarnia, Ont. Rev. F. V. Venables will lead the funeral services in the chapel of Hayward's B.C. Funeral Parlor tomorrow afternoon at 2. Burial will be in Ross Bay Cemetery.

FREDERICK M. WILSON

Frederick Mouat Wilson, 65-year-old native son of Victoria, died on Sunday evening at his home at 1415 Harrison Street. He was the son of Alexander and Mary Wilson, pioneer residents of the city. He is survived by the widow, two daughters, Mrs. S. V. Wright, 1783 Foul Bay Road, and Miss Anna Evelyn Wilson; one son, John Alexander Wilson of Seattle; four brothers and four sisters. The funeral will be held on Wednesday afternoon at 2 in McCall Brothers' Funeral Home, with Dr. W. G. Wilson leading the service. Burial will be in the family plot at Ross Bay Cemetery.

Believe Man Was Stabbed By Fork

City Police today were investigating an alleged attack on Arthur Rivers, 1032 Fort Street, early yesterday morning, in which he was apparently stabbed in the back of the head with a fork.

Mr. Rivers was brought to police headquarters shortly after 1:30 yesterday morning suffering from a cut on the back of the head and slight concussion. Taken to the Jubilee Hospital for examination it was discovered he had what appeared to be four prong marks in the back of his head.

Three Thefts Over Week-end

Thieves were active in the Fairfield district over the week-end and two homes were entered and losses reported from each.

From the home of J. H. Hedley, 1166 Chapman Street, they stole a gold watch, two pendants, a pair of gold ear-rings and a gold bracelet. Entry was gained through a basement window.

H. J. Cunningham, 1319 Franklin Terrace, reported his home entered between 6 and 10.20 Saturday night and a silver dollar and 45 cents in change taken. A bedroom window served as means of entry.

Wimpy's, 937 Yates Street, was entered between 2.30 yesterday morning and 2 yesterday afternoon and $15 worth of cigarettes and $4 cash were taken. The thieves jimmied the back door of the premises to gain admittance.

Says Oil Export Down In Mexico

Government's Action in Expropriating Holdings Causing Heavy Loss

Mexican oilfields and production equipment has resulted in a 94 per cent drop in her crude oil export trade as well as a great loss in revenue from the export tax, according to Tom Rogers, an official of the Shell Oil Company stationed in Mexico for 18 years, who addressed the Gyro Club luncheon in the Empress Hotel today.

In a brief but detailed review of developments which had led up to the government action in taking away the oil companies' properties, Mr. Rogers dealt with the labor disturbances that started in 1936, their subsequent developments and the ultimate finding of the Supreme Court against the companies. The court ruled the companies should pay to the laborers what Mr. Rogers said was more than the profit they made in a year's operations.

Mr. Rogers said in 1936 the oil workers had affiliated with the Mexican Workers' Federation, which controlled Mexican labor. The workers then presented working contracts to the companies which the speaker described as absurd inasmuch as they demanded extras which exceeded the companies' gross revenues.

"There followed several months of dickering, the companies presenting counter contracts. Experts were called, a board of arbitration was appealed to and finally the matter went to the Supreme Court.

After the court's ruling, Mr. Rogers said, the government had expropriated, and one of its first actions towards labor had been to cut wages below what the companies were paying.

Export trade had now dropped to about 4,000 barrels a day, where it was formerly 80,000, he said.

Dance Revue To Be Outstanding

Some excellent entertainment will be seen at the Royal Victoria Theatre on the evening of June 3 when the pupils of the Russian Ballet School, under the direction of Mrs. Dorothy Wilson, will present their annual spring revue.

These dance recitals have always been outstanding in the theatrical life of Victoria and an entirely new set of dances and costumes too, will be seen this year.

The intriguing name of this season's revue is "Footlight Frolics."

CAPITOL THEATRE

Basil Rathbone, pre-eminent movie "meanie," didn't join the Warner Bros. "Adventures of Robin Hodd" company on location at Chico, Calif., until he had made certain that all his insurance policies were in order.

For Rathbone was in for a tough session in the Technicolor production as Sir Guy of Gisbourne who had to do a lot of battling with Robin Hood and to lose every encounter. The picture is now at the Capitol Theatre.

"Hats Off" At Plaza Theatre

Three Radio Rogues Carry Leading Roles in Bright New Comedy

The Three Radio Rogues, Eddie Bartell, Henry Taylor and James Hollywood, known from coast to coast and border to border for their famous mimicry, are seen doing their stuff in Grand National's musical "Hats Off," now at the Plaza Theatre.

The Radio Rogues, a few years ago, stole the MGM picture "Going Hollywood" from Marion Davies and Bing Crosby. Following that they remained a year at the Palladium in London, where only the greatest artists are seen, and were cabled an offer by Petroff to appear in "Hats Off," which they immediately accepted.

Fine Cast At Atlas Theatre

Alice Faye, Fred Allen, Jimmy Durante in "Sally, Irene and Mary"

"Sally, Irene and Mary," is Darryl F. Zanuck's newest contribution to screen entertainment, and it is now at the Atlas Theatre.

Alice Faye and Tony Martin head the cast with Fred Allen of radio's "Town Hall Tonight."

Alice and Tony sing tuneful songs and Fred keeps the mirth running when he tries to run a Hudson River showboat. Jimmy "Schnozzle" Durante is in the show too.

Tear Gas Bombs In Duluth Crowd

Police Use Missiles to Break Up Crowd of Strikers at Newspaper Plant

DULUTH, Minn. (AP)—Police exploded tear gas bombs today to disperse a crowd estimated at 500 and open a way through newspaper guild picket lines for workers to enter the Duluth News-Herald plant, closed by an American Newspaper Guild strike started April 3 in a demand for a guild shop.

The paper resumed publication today.

Lieut. Jack Englert, head of police traffic bureau, read the rioting law to the crowd, which had been milling about nearly an hour while the non-striking workers sought to enter. The pickets refused to move, and police fired tear gas.

Two photographers were jailed when they refused to move for police afterwards. They were Robert F. Glander, Minneapolis, of the Associated Press, and Carl Wallenton, Duluth.

The returnnig workers had met last week to discuss the guild's demands with the Lake Superior unit of the American Newspaper Guild. Their return at 7 a.m. today came after another week-end meeting of their own group.

Wider Field For Social Crediters

Aberhart Says Whole of Canada May Be Testing Ground

SASKATOON (CP)—"If the people of Canada prefer to have the demonstration (of Social Credit) take place in the province of Alberta, where it began, they should be given an opportunity to indicate it to the federal government," Premier Aberhart of Alberta said in a statement issued here yesterday.

Mr. Aberhart, now participating in the Saskatchewan June 8 election campaign, conferred here with G. F. Powell, British Social Credit technician sent to Alberta in June, 1937, by Major C. H. Douglas, founder of Social Credit.

Mr. Powell, released April 29 form the Fort Saskatchewan jail on ticket-of-leave after serving about half of a six-month term for publishing defamatory libel, is en route home to England.

He left Saskatoon last night for eastern Canada, where he will attend a meeting in Montreal May 29 to organize an eastern Canada Social Credit Association. A western association, of which Mr. Aberhart is leader, was formed in Edmonton in April.

Asked for comment regarding his conference with Mr. Powell, the Premier said:

"In our conference we were agreed in our firm conviction that the movement in connection with Social Credit is fast assuming Dominion-wide proportions. What position Mr. Powell will be asked to assume in connection with this extensive and rapid development is not definite yet.

WIDER FIELD

"We believe the time has come when the privilege of demonstrating the true worth of Social Credit philosophy must be decided. . . .

"The movement may assume a larger sphere of activity than at present, and Canada as a whole may be called on to be the field of demonstration of these matters. . .

"Later on (after the meeting May 29 in Montreal) I expect he (Mr. Powell) will confer with Major Douglas in London regarding future plans and other details that will make for greater progress still than has already taken place."

WAR ADMIRAL 8 TO 5 CHOICE

Are Latest Betting Odds For Match Race With Seabiscuit on May 30

NEW YORK—Betting money now is around 8 to 5 that War Admiral, Man O'War's handsome son, will win the $100,000 match race against Seabiscuit, at Belmont Park Monday.

Charley Kurtsinger, who will ride the Admiral, is a lot like his famous steed. He's a chatty, cocksure little guy who is busy every second when his horse starts running, though he has not laid a whip on War Admiral more than a couple of times.

"Sure, I'm going to jump right out in front and keep going," he says confidently, "because I know War Admiral can outrun any horse on the track today. I hope Seabiscuit makes it close, though."

Red Pollard of Edmonton is different. He's tall for a jockey, towering a hand above Kurtsinger, and he's as quiet and contained as Seabiscuit. All he could think of to say at a recent conclave of the sound movies was "I hope to win."

Fine Settings At The Oak Bay

Paul Murphy Did Work On "Something to Sing About" With Cagney

When Victor Schertzinger began planning his ambitious production of "Something to Sing About," the Grand National music and dance screen sensation, starring James Cagney, which is now at the Oak Bay Theatre, he dickered with Columbia for the loan of Paul Murphy to design the settings for the production. He was extremely gratified, when he succeeded in making the deal, for it was Murphy, whose artistic talent and ingenuity had created and designed the sets for "Love Me Forever," one of Schertzinger's most successful screen productions, while he, himself, was working on the Columbia lot.

New York Play To Come Here

"You Can't Take It With You" Coming to Royal June 6 and 7

The attraction at the Royal Victoria Theatre for two nights, Monday and Tuesday, June 6 and 7, will be that rollicking farce comedy, "You Can't Take It With You," written by Moss Hart and George Kaufman, and produced by the most successful of New York managers, Sam H. Harris.

The fame of "You Can't Take It With You" has spread throughout the continent due to its great success in New York, Chicago, Boston, Los Angeles, San Francisco, and through its winning of the coveted Pulitzer Prize as the best play of 1937.

The company coming here includes in its excellent cast such well-known players as Clarence Oliver, Ethel Wilson, Reginald Mason, Joseph Allenton, Barbara Fulton, Donald Foster, Sara Sherburne, Dorothy French, Glen Boles and others.

TEX RITTER AT THE COLUMBIA

How a young United States deputy marshal is chased by the sheriff in the belief he is a desperate criminal. . . How he takes refuge in the boudoir of a lovely senorita and finds romance, where he had expected to find the leader of an outlaw band. . . How he is picked for a "killer" and in a score of thrilling episodes confounds his enemies and breaks up a gang that has for years defied the law. . . How a battle in a crowded court room forms the setting for the romantic ending to his quest. . . All this is told in "Song of the Gringo," Grand National's new musical western, starring Tex Ritter, radio's "singing cowboy," which is coming to the Columbia Theatre today.

Bing Crosby To Be Starred Here

Together Bing Crosby and Beatrice Lillie are starred in the screen musical comedy "Doctor Rhythm," which opens tomorrow at the Dominion Theatre. It is a lighthearted O. Henry story of a New York physician who dons a policeman's uniform for a day only to fall in love with the beautiful young lady he is assigned to guard.

Songs in the best Crosby tradition follow one after another, with "My Heart Is Taking Lessons" and "On the Sentimental Side" on their way to become hits of the first rank.

Ants are fond of sweets, and a scout ant that discovers cake, sugar, or candy will report to the ant colony and lead a hungry horde to the feast.

Vancouver Dog Is Awarded Big Prize

W. H. Pym's Beagle, Ch. River Park Hotspur, Judged Best in Show

A smart little beagle Champion River Park Hotspur, owned by W. H. Pym, well-known Vancouver fancier, carried off the best-in-show honors in the all-bred championship spring show of the Vancouver Island Dog Fanciers' Association held Saturday in the Crystal Garden. Dogs from all parts of the Pacific coast were entered.

In addition, the beagle was judged the best sporting hound and the best Canadian-bred.

With a good entry in practically all classes Jack Wolfenden, San Francisco, who judged all breeds, was kept busy from early morning until late in the evening.

The show was officially opened by Herbert Anscomb, M.P.P., with Dr. J. D. Hunter, M.P.P., presenting the awards to the successful exhibitors at the conclusion of the judging.

London Market

LONDON (AP)—Unsettled European political developments and lower Wall Street prices over the week-end caused quotations in the stock market to be marked down. Foreign bonds were exceptionally weak and copper shares declined further. Gold mining issues, which sagged sharply at the opening, rallied later in the day, and Trans-Atlantic securities finished slightly lower. The gilt-edged group was weak throughout the day and final quotations were off a quarter of a point or more.

Closing: Brazilian 4¼%, C.P.R. 85⅛, International Nickel $45, U.S. Steel $43⅞, British-American Tobacco 101s 3d; Cable and Wireless (51⅛), Courtaulds 36s 6d, H.B.C. 19s 9d, Woolworth 6½ 9d ex-div.

July Wheat Leads Winnipeg Retreat

WINNIPEG (CP) — Winnipeg July wheat future dropped more than three cents today to lead declining prices that followed weakness in outside markets, easing of the European political situation and lack of demand. Wheat futures closed 1⅛ to 3⅛ cents lower, May $1.16⅛, July $1.01½ to $1.01⅝ and October 83¼ cents.

A feature of the drab session was the disappearance of a premium for No. 1 northern wheat. For the first time in many months the top grade of Canadian wheat was on a deliverable basis.

Liverpool closed unchanged to ½d lower. Buenos Aires eased fractionally at noon and Chicago was off around a cent.

World wheat shipments last week were 8,021,000 bushels, a decline of 2,596,000 bushels in a week. Shipments a year ago totaled 12,890,000 bushels. North American clearances held steady at 3,254,000 bushels.

Despite buying of barley futures by exporters and domestic purchases in oats, all coarse grain futures declined in sympathy with wheat.

CHICAGO (AP)—The price of wheat fell to the lowest point in four years today as a result of selling induced by lower quotations at Liverpool, rails in the domestic grain belt and slack export business in North American wheat.

Losses of almost 2 cents a bushel at times were reduced only fractionally by subsequent rallies. Reports indicating an improved political situation in Europe also had a marked effect.

Wheat closed near the day's low, ⅞ to 1⅝ cents below Saturday's finish, May 78 to 78⅛, July, 75 to 75⅛, and corn was ⅜ to ⅝ down, May 57¼, July 58⅝ to 58½. Oats lost ¼ to ½.

Canadian Markets Closed Tomorrow

All Canadian markets will be closed tomorrow to observe the May 24 holiday. These include Montreal, Toronto, Vancouver and Calgary, and the Winnipeg Grain Exchange. The New York Exchange, Chicago Grain Exchange and other United States markets will function tomorrow as usual.

Calgary Oils

CALGARY (CP) — Trading in oil issues was somewhat better in selected issues on the Calgary Stock Exchange today, but volume remained comparatively low.

Commoil featured trading with a gain of 7 points to close at 81. National Pete gained 2 at 30, and Sunset 1 at 44.

Mercury at 10 lost a point.

Picked Stocks Edge Up In Final Hour

NEW YORK (AP) — Selected stocks managed to edge forward in today's market with best prices registered in the final hour. Fractional gains predominated at the close.

It was one of the most sluggish sessions in the past four years. The ticker tape frequently stood still for a minute or so at a time. Transfers approximated 350,000 shares.

While the German-Czech crisis apparently had lessened, some nervousness was still in evidence among trading forces over the possibility of a new European war flare-up.

Market sentiment, however, seemed to be somewhat better, as brokerage quarters were beginning to feel the list had been oversold and was in a position to take advantage of any optimistic news developments.

One of the most serious handicaps to stocks, commentators pointed out, was the continued weakness of comodities.

Further weakness in the low-priced rail group unsettled the bond market although many industrial corporates held about even.

Nickle Plate 6s was an outstanding weak spot, losing around eight points near the last hour. The 5½s of 1974 "A" of the same road, and Northern Pacific 5s were off 4 or more, while losers of major fractions included Southern Railway 4s, N.Y. Central 5s, Illinois Central 4¾s and St. Louis-San Francisco 4½s.

(By H. A. Humber Ltd.)

Dow Jones averages closed today as follows:

Thirty industrials, 113.97, up 0.72.

Twenty rails, 21.81, up 0.08.

Twenty utilities, 19.09, up 0.05.

Forty bonds, 86.94, off 0.02.

Mystery of the Amazon

I.—FAWCETT'S FIRST JOURNEY

Today we start the story of one of the mysteries of the Amazon River. It is the record of an Englishman's adventures when he dared the jungles, of how he was lost, and of what happened to men who went to search for him.

Among the many interesting things about the Amazon are its strange fish. These include electric eels and piranhas.

Head of one of the Amazon's "piranhas."

Piranhas are small but dangerous. They are feared by both men and animals. If a person goes into the water, he may be killed by a swarm of these little "man-eaters."

A great deal is known about the Amazon, but there is much which is not known. Some parts of the basin never have been entered by white men. Into other parts, white men have gone but have not come back.

Twenty-eight years ago, Col. P. H. Fawcett left England with the plan of exploring the headwaters of the Amazon. This was his first attempt to find "a lost tribe" in the South American jungles. Before he left, he said:

"I have met half a dozen men who declared they had seen white Indians. They even have a name, the Morcegos, or 'Bat People.' They are supposed to hunt by night, and to rest during the day. There also are stories of old ruins and strange animals."

With six other white men—among them a doctor and three soldiers—Col. Fawcett reached La Paz, Bolivia. Then they made their way to Lake Titicaca, which lies between Peru and Bolivia.

The next part of the journey led up the valley of the Heath River, a stream which forms one of the uppermost branches of the Amazon. Around it live the warlike Indians known as Guayaros. Fawcett knew they had been in the custom of shooting white men from ambush, also of poisoning springs from which strangers were likely to drink. Yet he went on with the trip.

In three canoes, well loaded with baggage, the whites paddled and poled their way. Sometimes they had to pass rapids, or work free from snags, but they found the jungle travel pleasant enough—until they came to a bend in the stream!

Around the bend they saw an Indian village on one of the banks. Fawcett told his men to steer toward shore to make a visit.

What a visit it turned out to be! All the savages in sight soon ran to cover and in a moment an arrow came flying from behind a clump of bushes. It struck one of the canoes!

Modern Etiquette

By ROBERTA LEE

1. How many bridesmaids may a bride have?
2. If a bride has a sister of suitable age, does she usually serve as either the maid or matron of honor?
3. Should a bride be considerate of her attendants' purses.
4. Is it good taste to send wedding invitations to friends who live so far away that one knows they cannot accept?
5. Should a business acquaintance of the groom send his gift to the groom's home?

What would you do if—

You are a groom whose bride is to be married in a traveling suit. Would you wear—

(a) A cutaway?
(b) A business suit?
(c) Tweeds?

Answers

1. Usually not more than eight, and six is the usual number for a large wedding.
2. Yes.
3. Yes. Unless, as is occasionally done, the bride pays for all of the dresses.
4. Yes.
5. No. All gifts are sent to the bride.

Best "What Would You Do" solution—(b).

STAND-INS for JUDI PARKS and MARJORIE WEAVER

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR MISS DIX—I was a widow and I married a man whose wife had been dead two years. Before marriage we discussed our former marriages to the fullest extent and agreed that we were beginning a new life together and that we would not expect each other to be like our lost mates. In spite of this, however, in less than two months after we were married my husband found that he was not reconciled to his wife's death and that, although he had no fault to find with me, I could not take her place. I was well enough as I was, but I was just not like she was. His disappointment brought on a nervous breakdown and he requested me to leave him, which I did. I love him very much, but he says that our marriage was a sad mistake and that he does not want to go on with it. There is to be a meeting soon for us to come to terms, and I don't know how to prepare myself for it. What can I do? MRS. L. W.

Answer: It seems to me that the best thing that you can do is to spar for time. Do not consent to an immediate divorce. Tell him that you want to wait for a couple of years before making a final decision on the subject. Perhaps if you give him a chance to get good and lonesome and to miss the ministrations of a wife, he will come to his senses and realize that a live woman who loves him is better than mooning over the memory of a dead one.

Tell him you will be no man's unwanted wife. But that you want him to be sure of himself before he makes a final decision that is unjust to you. Don't reproach him. Show him that you can understand his feelings and are sorry for him. Don't write him beseeching letters. Don't tell him that you still love him and are pining for him. Just let him alone and let the lonesomeness sink in, while he remembers what a sensible, considerate woman you are. And unless he is absolutely obsessed by the ghost of his first wife you will get him back.

Your husband has an unusually bad case of the dear-departed-Maria complex, but most widowers have it in one form or another and it is one of the afflictions with which nearly all second wives have to contend. And it is a queer and inexplicable thing, too, for the very men who are always flinging No. 1 in No. 2's teeth didn't regard her as such a paragon while she was alive. It was only after she had passed on that she became the model of perfection upon which they expect No. 2 to found herself.

Seaplane Service Will Be Resumed

Permission has been given by the department of civil aviation to Island Airways to operate planes between Victoria and Vancouver under charter pending the issuance of a license, when the scheduled service will be resumed.

The regular air service of Island Airways was temporarily canceled Saturday on instructions by R. Carter Guest, district inspector of civil aviation at Vancouver.

The federal air regulations require that a company operating air carriers secure a transport license from the department of transport at Ottawa before advertising or operating an air service on regular schedule. Island Airways applied for a license some time ago and started the scheduled service before it was granted by the department.

Strike Spreads On Oil Barges

NEW YORK (AP) — A strike paralyzing 200 oil barges and putting more than 600 men ashore, called by the United Maritime division of the Affiliated International Longshoremen's Association, was reported by union officials today to be spreading to barge canal craft from northern New York cities.

Capt. William H. Bradley, head of the United maritime division, who called the strike, said some of the men in his union were working from 72 to 84 hours a week, and that the strike would continue until the companies agreed to an eight-hour, six-day week on all craft.

Giant Plane Is Ready For Tests

Boeing Clipper Capable of Adding 2,000 Miles to Non-stop Record

NEW YORK (CP)—A giant four-motored, 41-ton flying boat which, in the opinion of its builders, could add nearly 2,000 miles to the world's non-stop distance record for airplanes, is virtually completed today at the Boeing plant in Seattle and is scheduled for test flights within the next two weeks.

It is intended for New York-London passenger service this summer.

There is little chance, however, that the ship will be used for an assault on the 6,305.7-mile distance mark established last July by three Russians on a transpolar flight from Moscow to San Jacinto, Calif.

Five sister ship are under construction at the Boeing factory for service on both the Atlantic and Pacific.

Performance guaranteed by designers includes a non-stop, still-air range of 4,000 miles with a pay load of 10,000 pounds on a normal fuel capacity of 4,200 gallons.

50 PASSENGERS

On the New York-London run, with intermediate stops in Newfoundland and Ireland—or at the Azores if the so-called southern route should be used across the north Atlantic—it is expected to carry 50 passengers, their baggage and a mail or express cargo of several thousand pounds. The longest single flight involved on the Atlantic would be only about 2,3000 miles.

On Pan-America's Pacific route the new ship is expected to carry 40 passengers over the 2,410-mile expanse of sea from San Francisco to Honolulu and up to its full seating capacity of 74 passengers on the shorter legs of the airway from Hawaii to China. It is equipped with four twin-row, radial Wright cyclone motors of 1,500 horsepower each and is expected to have a top speed of nearly 200 miles an hour, cruising at 150 on long-range flights.

Those who have speculated on the long-range possibilities of the Boeing clipper say that, with prevailing west-east winds, it probably could fly non-stop from Vancouver to London, an air-line distance of 4,842 miles, with a full trans-Atlantic load of passengers. With additional fuel tanks, they say, it could easily fly from Vancouver to Constantinople (6,225 miles) and probably to Karachi, India (8,784 miles).

An engineer recently reminded an American audience that, in this age of speed, a taxi driver going 10 miles an hour at the rush hours of big city traffic would be pinched for reckless driving.

Around the Docks

TUG FLOATED

The 142-foot United States tug Humacoona of Seattle, which went aground Friday night in Navy Channel, between Pender and Mayne islands, was floated at 8.30 Saturday night, and continued with her tow to Vancouver.

The salvage of the tug was supervised by William G. Jordan, superintendent of the Pacific Salvage Company, who flew from Victoria to the scene of the stranding in the Waco seaplane of Island Airways, piloted by Terry Finney. The Seattle tugs Commissioner and Baer were used to haul the Humancoona afloat, the salvage vessel Skookum, which had been sent to her aid, being ordered back. The Humacoona's oil tanks were punctured, but otherwise she was undamaged. The tug (419 gross and 190 tons net) is owned by the Merrill and Ring Lumber Company.

LEAVES FOR ENGLEWOOD

After stowing 600,000 feet of lumber here the Anglo-African, Capt. E. S. Salter, will get away from the Canadian National Docks this afternoon for Englewood.

The freighter Hadleigh is listed to sail from Crofton at 4 this afternoon for Victoria to complete with lumber for the United Kingdom.

Lumber loading operations at the Ogden Point docks will be suspended tomorrow, owing to the holiday.

TANKER OVERHAULS

To undergo general overhaul at Yarrows Limited, Imperial Oil Company's tanker Albertolite steamed into Esquimalt harbor at 8.30 this morning and berthed alongside the drydock wharf preliminary to entering the graving basin.

The ship's machinery will be gone over thoroughly and her hull will be cleaned and painted, it was stated at Yarrows this morning.

The tanker will be here for about a week.

ISLANDS TRIP

Vancouver Island Coach Lines and the Gulf Islands Ferry Company announce an excursion on Wednesday to Port Washington, Ganges Harbor and Mayne Island. Buses will leave the Broughton Street depot at 9 in the morning and will connect at Swartz Bay with the ferry Cy Peck for the water trip. Buses will return to the local depot at 7.30.

NEW BOAT LAUNCHED

Built by Harry Lutz and Herbery Herbert Crossley from plans prepared by William Atkins, the auxiliary motor vessel Belle Marie has been launched at the Enterprise wharf.

Yawl-rigged, the vessel is 28 feet long by 10 feet beam, powered by a 25-horsepower Star engine. The Belle Marie is well-equipped and has sleeping accommodation for four people.

PASSES CANAL

British freighter Anglo-Peruvian, which is due to load lumber at Victoria next month, passed through the Panama Canal on Saturday, and is now northbound. Anglo-Peruvian is owned by the same company as the Anglo-African, in port over the week-end.

Plane Runs Wild; Aviator Charged

FARMINGDALE, N.Y. (AP)—Capt. Ugo V. d'Annunzio, son of the late Italian poet-aviator, was charged with assault today because his airplane yesterday went out of control as he cranked it, ran pilotless in widening circles at Seversky Airport for 10 minutes, and finally crashed into a parked car. Mrs. Susie J. Jones, 44, of Huntington, N.Y., was injured seriously when the runaway plane buried its nose in her car.

Aquila, Onaway, Race Leaders

Keen Competition in Longstreth and Devonian Cup Events at Cadboro Bay

Aquila, sailed by A. C. Packford, crossed the finishing line at Cadboro Bay in the star class for the Longstreth Cup, and Onaway, with Peter Hincks at the tiller, led the dinghies in the Devonian Cup event at Cadboro Bay on Saturday afternoon.

The races were run under ideal weather conditions, the boats being favored with a southeasterly breeze.

Officials for the day were: Starter, J. B. Acland, and timekeeper, Jack Healy.

The course was from the clubhouse mark to Willows Beach buoy to Cadboro Bay beach buoy and home to the Royal Victoria Yacht Club, a distance of about five miles.

The stars started at 3 with the dinghies getting away five minutes later. All the craft had sailed the course by 4.15.

Aura was first over the starting line for the star boats, followed by Aquila and Boykin.

Although Boykin was last to get away she held an advantageous weather position and maintained it until after the Willows mark was passed, with Aquila and Aura in her wake. Boykin was passed by Aquila and Aura on the run to Cadboro Bay beach, the Aquila holding a slight lead which she maintained until the finishing line was crossed.

The dinghies were well bunched at the start with Bandicoot taking a slight lead.

At the Willows mark the dinghies were paired, Pancho and Onaway turning first, with Pancho, a non-racer, holding a slight advantage; Tahiti and Penguin rounding the mark a few minutes later, trailed by Bandicoot and Helen.

Onaway drew ahead and crossed the finishing line in the lead.

Finishing times and skippers follow: Stars — Aquila, A. C. Packford, 3:57:30; Aura, H. Gann, 3:57:58; Boykin, R. F. Blandy, 3:58:20. Dinghies: Onaway, P. Hincks, 4:13:22; Tahiti, J. W. Golby, 4:14:42; Penguin, E. P. Ashe, 4:15:21; Bandicoot, G. A. Heal, 4:16.15; Helen, J. Todd, 4:17:44. Tern did not finish. Pancho, Ian Acland, finished at 4:12:40.

DUAL POSTS ARE ENDORSED

Two Councillors Elected to Saanich School Board in By-election

Councillors Edward C. Warren and Leslie H. Passmore were elected to the Saanich School Board in the by-election on Saturday to fill the two trustee seats vacated by the resignations of A. E. Hall and William Tomes.

In a small poll Councillor Warren was elected to complete the unexpired two-year term of Mr. Hull and Councillor Passmore won the contest for the term which will expire next December.

Both contests were triangular with Councillor Warren defeating Richard G. "Bob" Shanks and J. W. Higham and Councillor Passmore defeating W. J. Lynn and W. A. Kettle.

The two successful candidates had majorities in Wards Two, Five, Six and Seven, Councillor Warren polling a total of 308 and Councillor Passmore a total of 309.

The official result in the respective wards, announced following this morning's recount, was:

ANGLICANS TO HOLD SERVICE

Special Ceremony By Rural Parishoners at St. John's Thursday

To take part in a special service of praise and thanksgiving, members of the Anglican Church from the Sooke-Sidney area will gather at St. John's Church, Quadra and Mason Streets, Thursday evening at 8. The service will commemorate Ascension Day.

Extra seating accommodation will be available, but it would be advisable for the public to bring their prayer books.

To the Strains of "Hail the Day That Sees Him Rise" the procession of vested choirs and clergy, the canons, the dean and the bishop will enter the church along the north side to the west end and thence up the nave to the choir, chancel and sanctuary.

Evensong will be fully choral, including Smart's "Magnificat," Felton's "Nunc Dimittis," and the hymns, "The Head That Once Was Crowned With Thorns" (St. Magnus) and "Jesus Shall Reign" (Galilee). The Very Rev. Spencer Hayward Elliott, M.A., dean and rector of Christ Church Cathedral, will preach the sermon.

Following the address, the offerings of the congregation will be taken in aid of the work of the Missionary Society of the Canadian Church, during the singing of the hymn "Come Ye Faithful, Raise the Anthem."

The recessional, "Glorious Things of Thee Are Spoken" (Austria), will be sung after the benediction, as the procession of choirs and clergy makes its way back to the vestries.

ALBERTA FIRES SPREAD SOUTH

Outbreaks in Northern Areas Threaten Valuable Timber Stands

EDMONTON (CP)—Haze from fires in the bush and timber areas of Alberta's northland have spread south to the central districts of the province, bringing a light pall to an otherwise clear sky.

Reports to the forestry branch of the Alberta Department of Lands and Mines told of fires breaking out on tinder-dry land that has been without rain in recent weeks. No settlements were reported in immediate danger, but it was feared the flames would spread to valuable timber stands if they were not checked soon.

High winds added to the danger in some of the threatened districts late last week.

The closest fire to Edmonton was reported in the Fort Assiniboine district, 100 miles northwest of here. Settlers were reported to have turned out there to aid fire rangers in checking the flames.

Fires were also reported in the rolling bush land northwest of Lac la Biche, north of McMurray and north of Grande Prairie and Peace River. A fire was reported just north of the Tar Sand refining plant at McMurray.

J. A. Hutchison, assistant director of the forestry branch, said no additional fire fighters had been sent into the areas.

NELSON, B.C. (CP)—A crew of 125 men last night and today fought the first forest fire of considerable size in the southern interior this season near Summit Lake, 12 miles east of Nakusp in the West Kootenay.

Officials were hopeful a fireguard around the blaze would be completed this afternoon. Starting Saturday from the tie-burning operation the fire was on ground burned over in 1925 and no valuable timber involved, it were understood. The outbreak Sunday night was estimated to have extended over a length of three miles and a width of one mile along the railway track and highway.
